Time Exile:

The Other Lands of Israel Liv Ingeborg Lied, 2008 According to the current scholarly consensus the apocalypse of 2 Baruch written after the Fall of Jerusalem either rejected the concept of the Land of Israel as a place of salvation or regarded it as of minor importance Inspired by the perspective of Critical Spatial Theory this book discusses the presuppositions behind this consensus with regard to the spatial epistemology it assumes and explores the conception of the Land as a broad redemptive category The result is a fresh portrait of the vitality of the Land theme in the first centuries of the common era and a new perspective on the spatial imagination of 2 Baruch

Documenting Impossible Realities Susan Bibler Coutin, Barbara Yngvesson, 2023-04-15 Documenting Impossible Realities explores the limitations of conventional accounts through which belonging is documented focusing on the experiences of adoptees deportees migrants and other exilic populations Susan Bibler Coutin and Barbara Yngvesson speak to the current historical moment in which the dichotomy between an above ground inhabited by dominant groups and an underground to which unauthorized immigrants political exiles and transnational adoptees are relegated cannot be sustained This dichotomy was made possible by the illusion that some people do not belong that some forms of kin are not real or that certain ways of knowing do not count To examine accounts that challenge such illusions Coutin and Yngvesson focus on the spaces between groups where difference is constituted and where the potential for new forms of relationship may be realized By juxtaposing and moving between entangled realities and modes of expression Documenting Impossible Realities conveys the emotional experience of oscillating between being here and gone legitimate and treated as counterfeit

Prison, Punishment and Penance in Late Antiquity Julia Hillner, 2015-06-05 This book traces the long term genesis of the sixth century Roman legal penalty of forced monastic penance The late antique evidence on this penal institution runs counter to a scholarly consensus that Roman legal principle did not acknowledge the use of corrective punitive confinement Dr Hillner argues that forced monastic penance was a product of a late Roman penal landscape that was more complex than previous models of Roman punishment have allowed She focuses on invigoration of classical normative discourses around punishment as education through Christian concepts of penance on social uses of corrective confinement that can be found in a vast range of public and private scenarios and spaces as well as on a literary Christian tradition that gave the experience of punitive imprisonment a new meaning The book makes an important contribution to recent debates about the interplay between penal strategies and penal practices in the late Roman world

Literary Construction of Identity in the Ancient World Hanna Liss, Manfred Oeming, 2010-06-30 Encountering an ancient text not only as a historical source but also as a literary artifact entails an important paradigm shift which in recent years has taken place in classical and Oriental philology Biblical scholars Egyptologists and classical philologists have been pioneers in supplementing traditional historical critical exegesis with more literary approaches This has led to a wealth of new insights While the methodological consequences of this shift have been discussed within each discipline until recently there has not been an attempt to discuss its validity and methodology on an interdisciplinary level In 2006 the Faculty of Bible and Biblical Interpretation at the Hochschule für Jüdische Studien Heidelberg and the Faculty of Theology at the University of Heidelberg invited scholars from the U S Canada the Netherlands Israel and Germany to examine these issues Under the title Literary Fiction and the Construction of Identity in Ancient Literatures Options and Limits of Modern Literary Approaches in the Exegesis of Ancient Texts experts in Egyptology classical philology ancient Near Eastern studies biblical studies Jewish studies literary studies and comparative religion came together to present current research and debate open questions At this conference each representative from a total of 23 different disciplines dealt with literary theory in regard to his or her area of research The present volume organizes 17 of the resulting essays along 5 thematic lines that show how similar issues are dealt with in different disciplines 1 Thinking of Ancient Texts as Literature 2 The Identity of Authors and Readers 3 Fiction and Fact 4 Rereading Biblical Poetry and 5 Modeling the Future by Reconstructing the Past
