Yearbook of Pharmacy, 1886 Includes the proceedings of the British Pharmaceutical Conference at its 7th 64th annual meetings Logic and Time K. Michalski, 2001-11-30 The subject of this study is Husserl's theory of meaning as it appears in his writings from the Logical Investigations to the Crisis of the European Sciences The first chapter focuses on Husserl's critique of psychologism and the theory of meaning that stems from it The second chapter takes its departure from the question of Husserl's attitude towards the Cartesian tradition then presents the transcendental noematic theory of meaning represented by The Idea of Phenomenology Ideas and Cartesian Meditations The third chapter deals with Husserl's interpretation of time consciousness against the background of the development of the problem of time in modern philosophy Husserl often changed his views regarding the question of meaning I have tried to understand the reasons for these changes To do this I have occasionally disturbed the chronological order of his arguments in favour of a consideration of their logical development and coherence Throughout this study but especially in the digression on consciousness and speech and the Postscript I have also attempted to bring to the fore a tension in Husserl's thought between two interpretive strategies the first I call Cartesian the other non Cartesian or hermeneutical
