Theology and Science in Mutual Modification Harold P. Nebelsick, 1981      Theology and Science in Mutual Modification
Harold P. Nebelsick, 1981      Look Around George R. Sinclair, 2020-07-08 What do you see when you look around Where does it lead and to what end Is there some purpose to it all And if so where do you fit in And how might we fit in together Maybe you have a faith but desire greater understanding Maybe you had a faith and are disillusioned Or maybe you want a faith but are skeptical This book invites another look It begins a conversation Who is God What is faith What does God want from us Why suffering Why worship Why work Through these and other everyday questions this book suggests possible answers Answers don't arrest thought Answers provoke thought and action life This book invites readers to look around so that they might discover a faith for the twenty first century a faith in conversation with science a faith fit for deep personal questions a faith ready to engage complex public issues Like Moses on Mount Pisgah wondering about a land he could see but never enter when looking around we may be awakened to hope      Creation, Catastrophe & Calvary John Templeton Baldwin, 2000 In this scientific age what difference does it make whether I believe the world was created in six literal days and that the world was destroyed by a global flood In answering these questions Creation Catastrophe and Calvary shows how these beliefs are related to key issues such as the forgiveness of our sins and Sabbath observance Foreword Introduction Meet the Authors An Angel's Worldview The Days of Creation in Genesis 1 A Second Creation Account Biblical Evidence for the Universality of the Genesis Flood The Grand Canyon and the Genesis Flood The Geologic Column and Calvary The Rainbow Connection Implications for an Evangelical Understanding of the Atonement Evolution A Theory in Crisis The Role of Creation in Seventh day Adventist Theology Science and Theology Focusing the Complementary Lights of Jesus Scripture and Nature      Faith and Knowledge Douglas Sloan, 1994-01-01 Sloan explores the impact that the Protestant theological renaissance 1925-1960 had on American colleges and universities focusing in particular on the church's most significant claim to have a continuing voice in higher education He traces the role of the national ecumenical and denominational organizations and studies the changing place of college chaplains      Describing the Hand of God Robert Brennan, 2016-04-28 The question of divine agency in the world remains one important unresolved underlying obstacle in the dialogue between theology and science Modern notions of divine agency are shown to have developed out of the interaction of three factors in early modernity Two are well known late medieval perfect being theology and the early modern application of the notion of the two books of God's revelation to the understanding of the natural order It is argued the third is the early modern appropriation of the Augustinian doctrine of inspiration This assumes the soul's existence and a particular description of divine agency in humans which became more generally applied to divine agency in nature Whereas Newton explicitly draws the parallel between divine agency in humans and that in nature Darwin rejects its supposed perfection and Huxley raises serious questions regarding the traditional understanding of the soul This book offers an alternative incarnational

description of divine agency freeing consideration of divine agency from being dependent on resolving the complex issues of perfect being theology and the existence of the soul In conversation with Barth's pneumatology this proposal is shown to remain theologically coherent and plausible while resolving or avoiding a range of known difficulties in the science theology dialogue
