

WING

The central section features a large, multi-panel digital display. The top panel shows a software interface with various data points and graphs. Below the display is a row of five circular buttons. To the right of the display is a vertical column of five square buttons. Above the display, the word 'WING' is visible in the top left corner.

This panel contains a grid of controls. At the top, there are several small indicator lights and a small screen. Below this is a row of five circular buttons. Underneath are two rows of square buttons, some of which are highlighted in yellow. At the bottom right of this panel is a circular dial.

The far-right panel consists of three distinct sections. The top section has four square buttons, one of which is yellow. The middle section has four square buttons, two of which are blue. The bottom section has four square buttons, two of which are white.

The main body of the console is a large, multi-channel mixing desk. It features six main channel strips, each with a small display at the top, a set of four buttons, a vertical fader, and a set of three horizontal faders. A central vertical column contains a series of buttons. To the right of the main strips is a sub-mixer section with a display, buttons, and a large circular knob. The entire console is set against a dark background with various colored lights and indicators.
