World Without Famine:

A World without Famine? John Toye, Helen O'Neill, 1998-03-15 The proceedings of the Development Studies Association conference held in Dublin on the 150th anniversary of the Great Irish Famine examine the historical background and the reasons why the spectre of famine continues to haunt much of the developing world today Set in the context of the concepts of food security and insecurity it emphasises our moral responsibility to act collectively and to tackle less dramatic problems of food insecurity

A World Without Hunger Archie Davies, 2022-11-17 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library as part of the Opening the Future project with COPIM Drawing on the rich personal archive of the geographer Josu de Castro this book tells a new history of geography by following one of the twentieth century's most influential and creative Brazilian intellectuals from the estuarine city of Recife to the halls of the UN the chambers of Brasilia and exile amid the political fervour of the universities of Paris in 1968 This is the first English language book on the absorbing life of Josu de Castro It follows modern anticolonial geographical thought in formation re-reading Castro's metabolic humanist geography as the anchor of a utopian practice of freedom the demand for a world without hunger Starting from Castro's life and work the book offers new takes on the history of nutrition translation in geography Brazilian modernist art and practice in post-war internationalism the radical geographical intellectual the problem of the region in the Brazilian Northeast and the birth of political ecology and critical environmental thought At once a biographical intellectual history and a work of geographical theory this innovative book tells the story of 20th century geography from a new angle and in new company

Food and Famine in the 21st Century William A. Dando, 2012-02-13 This comprehensive two-volume encyclopedia examines specific famines throughout history and contains entries on key topics related to food production security and policies and famine giving readers an in-depth look at food crises and their causes responses to them and outcomes Famines have claimed more lives across human history than all the wars ever fought This two-volume set represents the most comprehensive study of food and famine currently available providing the broadest analysis of hunger and famine causes as well as a detailed examination of the ramifications of cultural and natural hazards upon famine Volume one focuses upon 50 topics and issues relating to the creation of hunger and famines in the world from 4000 BCE to 2100 including an overview of how agriculture has evolved from primitive hunting and gathering that supported limited numbers of people to a worldwide system that now feeds over seven billion people Volume two entitled Classic Famines begins with famines of the past from 4000 BCE to 2100 CE includes ten classic famine case studies and concludes with predictions of famines we could see in the 21st century and beyond

Global Citizen - Challenges and Responsibility in an Interconnected World Aksel Braanen Sterri, 2015-02-03 A globalized world places new demands on us as citizens Global Citizen Challenges and Responsibility in an Interconnected World gives insight and perspectives on what it means to be a citizen in a global world from Norway's most distinguished scholars It poses and answers important questions such as which duties and rights do we have as citizens in a globalized world which institutions are just and sustainable and how can a global ethic and a global worldview be reconciled with the fact that the lives of the greater part of the Earth's population is still local Global Citizen Challenges and Responsibility in an Interconnected World draws on insights from philosophy jurisprudence theology and the social sciences to shed light on this manifold and important topic with relevance for policy makers stakeholders academics but most important for us as citizens who need to take both a political and personal decision on how to live as a citizen in a global world

Famine in Scotland - the 'Ill Years' of the 1690s Karen J. Cullen, 2010-02-15 This book examines the climatic and economic origins of the last national famine to occur in Scotland the nature and extent of the crisis which ensued and what the impact of the famine was upon the population in demographic economic and social terms Current published knowledge about the causes extent and impact of the famine in Scotland is limited and many conclusions have been speculative in the absence of extensive research Despite the critical importance of this crisis one of the four disasters of the 1690s which are widely acknowledged to have contributed to the economic arguments in favour of the Union of the Parliaments in 1707 the topic has been largely neglected and even underplayed by historians This is the first full study of the famine providing a unique scholarly examination of the causes course characteristics and consequences of the crisis A comprehensive study of agricultural climatic economic social and demographic issues the book seeks to establish answers to the fundamental question concerning the event How serious was it Using detailed statistical and qualitative analysis it discusses the regional factors that defined the famine the impact on the population and the interconnected causes of this traumatic event

Peasants, Famine and the State in Colonial Western India D. Hall-Matthews, 2005-06-01 Recent literature has suggested that famines are complex long drawn out and political processes rather than sudden natural phenomena This book is among the first to examine such a process in detail by studying poor peasants in Ahmednagar district Western India between 1870 and 1884 It does so by investigating their factors of production land capital and labour as well as markets in credit and the cheap foodgrains they produced and above all their relationship with the colonial state

The Famines of the World: Past and Present ... Cornelius Walford, 1879 In Quest of the Historian's Craft, 2025-10-27 This felicitation volume honours Professor Binay Bhushan Chaudhuri a doyen among scholars of modern Indian agrarian history He retired as UGC Professor of Economic History at the University of Calcutta where he had taught for about four decades He also served as Visiting Fellow in prestigious universities and institutes in Germany France USA the Netherlands Japan and Bangladesh Viewed as a whole this felicitation volume in two parts and with 35 contributions may be taken as a unique exercise in quest of the historian's craft to borrow the well known coinage of the legendary historian The essays honour a master craftsman of the discipline whose exemplary research and teaching assumed the form of a quest where old and new ideas were constantly reassembled making the historians territory a site of unusual vigour and stimulation The contributors include several generations of historians and scholars whose individual search for the historian's craft have always been original and thought provoking. The essays concentrate on socio-economic and cultural aspects of historical change in pre-colonial, colonial and post-colonial India and their larger historical connections. The themes include economic history, environmental history, adivasi histories, statecraft and law, aspects of social, cultural and religious history, the cultural life of the Indian diaspora, regional histories and identities and labour history.
