World Of John Burroughs:

The World of John Burroughs Edward Kanze, 1999 Born in 1837 in the Catskill Mountains of New York State and a longtime resident of the Hudson River Valley Burroughs spent his life studying the natural world His powerful verbal landscapes and philosophical insights into the natural world during the height of the Industrial Revolution were read by hundreds of thousands of people from powerful industrialists to countless schoolchildren He counted among his friends the poet Walt Whitman the pioneering preservationist President Teddy Roosevelt Thomas Edison and Andrew Carnegie Henry Ford whose own farmland upbringing Burroughs's writing recalled not only gave the writer a Model T car and went camping with him but also purchased his boyhood homestead which Burroughs and other relatives were having trouble maintaining and deeded it to his friend Author Ed Kanze himself a naturalist writer and photographer sheds new light on Burroughs's enormous contribution to how we think about our environment His biographical text is enhanced by many quotations from Burroughs's essays and poems and uniquely by conversations with Burroughs's granddaughter who contributed numerous affectionate recollections of her grandfather as well as many archival photographs of him his farm and woodland writing studio Slabsides and family and friends including Muir Roosevelt Ford Edison and others The text is further enlivened with crisp color photographs by Ed Kanze that evoke the landscapes Burroughs knew and loved and the many birds animals and plants that he wrote about with such intimacy and feeling Burroughs's world truly comes alive again in the words and pictures of this book

Harvest of a Quiet Eye John Burroughs, 1976 Harvest of a Quiet Eye John Burroughs, Charles F. Davis, 1976-01-01 Birds and Poets John Burroughs, 2016-12-10 John Burroughs April 3 1837 March 29 1921 was an American naturalist and nature essayist active in the U S conservation movement The first of his essay collections was Wake Robin in 1871 In the words of his biographer Edward Rhenan Burroughs special identity was less that of a scientific naturalist than that of a literary naturalist with a duty to record his own unique perceptions of the natural world The result was a body of work whose resonance with the tone of its cultural moment explains both its popularity at that time and its relative obscurity since Burroughs was the seventh of Chauncy and Amy Kelly Burroughs ten children He was born on the family farm in the Catskill Mountains near Roxbury in Delaware County New York As a child he spent many hours on the slopes of Old Clump Mountain looking off to the east and the higher peaks of the Catskills especially Slide Mountain which he would later write about As he labored on the family farm he was captivated by the return of the birds each spring and other wildlife around the family farm including frogs and bumblebees In his later years he credited his life as a farm boy for his subsequent love of nature and feeling of kinship with all rural things During his teen years Burroughs showed a keen interest in learning Among Burroughs's classmates was future financier Jay Gould Burroughs father believed the basic education provided by the local school was enough and refused to support the young Burroughs when he asked for money to pay for the books or the higher education he wanted At the age of 17 Burroughs left home to earn the money he needed for college by teaching at a school in Olive New York From 1854 to 1856 Burroughs alternated periods of teaching with periods of study at higher education institutions including Cooperstown Seminary he left the Seminary and completed his studies in 1856 He continued to teach until 1863 In 1857 Burroughs left a teaching position in the small village of Buffalo Grove in Illinois to seek employment closer to home drawn back by the girl I left behind me On September 12 1857 Burroughs married Ursula North 1836 1917 Burroughs later became an atheist with an inclination towards pantheism
