The Future Of Meta Analysis:

The Future of Meta-Analysis Kenneth W. Wachter, Miron L. Straf, 1990-06-28 Scientific progress often begins with the difficult task of preparing informed conclusive reviews of existing research. Since the 1970s the traditional subjective approach to research reviewing in the social sciences has been challenged by a statistical alternative known as meta analysis. Meta analysis provides a principled method of distilling reliable generalizations from previous studies on a single topic thereby providing a quantitative and objective background for future research. The Future of Meta Analysis brings together expert researchers for an in depth examination of this new methodology not to promote a consensus view but rather to explore from several perspectives the theories, tensions and concerns of meta analysis and to illustrate through concrete examples the rationale behind meta analytic decisions. In a meta analysis prepared especially for this volume a statistician and a psychologist review the existing literature on aphasia treatment. In a second study experts analyze six still unpublished meta analyses sponsored by the National Institute of Education to investigate the effects of school desegregation on the academic achievement of black children. This unique case study approach provides valuable discussion of the process of meta analysis and of the current implications of meta analysis for policy assessment. Prepared under the auspices of the National Research Council The Future of Meta Analysis presents a forum for leaders in this rapidly evolving field to discuss salient conceptual and technical issues and to offer a new theoretical framework, further methodological guidance and statistical innovations that anticipate a future in which meta analysis will play an even more effective and valuable role in social science research.

The Future of Correctional Rehabilitation Ronen Ziv, 2017-08-23 In the aftermath of Martinson's 1974 'nothing works' doctrine scholars have made a concerted effort to develop an evidence based corrections theory and practice to show what works to change offenders Perhaps the most important contribution to this effort was made by a group of Canadian psychologists most notably Donald Andrews James Bonta and Paul Gendreau who developed a treatment paradigm called the Risk Need Responsivity RNR model which became the dominant theory of correctional treatment This approach was more recently challenged by a perspective developed by Tony Ward Shadd Maruna and others called the Good Lives Model GLM Based in part on desistance research and positive psychology this model proposes to rehabilitate offenders by building on the strengths offenders possess GLM proponents see the RNR model as a deficit model that fixes dynamic risk factors rather than identifying what offenders value most and using these positive factors to pull them out of crime Through a detailed examination of both models theoretical and correctional frameworks The Future of Correctional Rehabilitation: Moving Beyond the RNR Model and Good Lives Model Debate probes the extent to which the models offer incompatible or compatible approaches to offender treatment and suggests how to integrate the RNR and GLM approaches to build a new and hopefully more effective vision for offender treatment A foreword by renowned criminologist Francis T Cullen helps put the material into context This book will be of much interest to scholars and students studying correctional rehabilitation as well as practitioners working with offenders

Future Of Election Forecasting Using Social Media Based Methods. Prospect or Pitfall? Marla van Nieuwland, 2015-11-24 Seminar paper from the year 2015 in the subject Communications Media and Politics Political Communications grade 1.0 University of Constance language English abstract In 2013 Daniel Gayo Avello captured the state of the art regarding election prediction with social media publishing a meta analysis the very first one in this field of study Concluding after an extensive literature review that the prevailing view among scientists is overly optimistic Gayo Avello declares three major problems that have to be addressed by future research 1 The need to produce a true forecast that is published before the election 2 The need to take into account the biases on Twitter especially the unrepresentativeness of the sample 3 The need to incorporate sentiment rather than just tweet volume The research question of this paper is very similar to Gayo Avello's meta analysis to give an overview of the current state of the art two years later assess if the past problems and questions scientists raised have been discussed and in the last step answer whether or not Twitter can be used as an efficient alternative to traditional electoral forecasting Although two years might not be a lot of time considering the time it takes for a study to be conducted and published the number of scientists contributing to this fairly new field of research is extremely high therefore making much more understanding in a short time possible Necessarily I will only highlight a selection of studies not being able to shed light on all studies In a nutshell I will take the 3 demands by Gayo Avello as a guideline to order recent studies then give a quick insight into the current discussion in the scientific field and in the end come to the conclusion that traditional polling and social media based approaches do not have to be exclusive but can and should be combined in future research

The Lancet, 1913 The Future of Post-human Creative Thinking Peter Baofu, 2009 What exactly makes creative thinking so magical that somehow everyone can be creative and by implication creativity is a good thing to have to the point that this popular view is fast becoming a fashionable nonsense in this day and age of ours To put things in a historical perspective this popular view contrasts sharply with the opposing view in the older days e.g. during the Enlightenment and Romantic eras when people used to think that creativity was primarily for the selected few with extraordinary abilities Contrary to the respective conventional wisdom in each of the two opposing eras neither of the two views is valid Ours is no more so than theirs This is not to imply of course that there are only a few instances of creativity in human history or in reverse that creativity can be equally taught to everyone and for that matter that there is absolutely nothing good about creativity Obviously extreme views like this are far from the truth The point in this book however is to show an alternative better way to understand the nature of creative thinking which goes beyond both convergent and divergent thinking while learning from them The current fashionable nonsense on creative thinking has tended to minimize its hidden downsides and exaggerate its overstated promises as part of a new ideology in this age of ours In addition there is nothing intrinsically good or bad about creative thinking just as there is nothing essentially good or evil about God the King Motherland or the like by analogy They have all been used and misused in accordance to the interests and powers that be over the ages If true this seminal view will fundamentally change the way that we think about the nature of imagination and intuition with its enormous implications for the future of invention and innovation in a small sense and what I originally called its oepost human fate in a large one Journal of the American Statistical Association,1996 The Future of Post-human Organization Peter Baofu,2009 The aim of this book is to provide an alternative way to understand the nature of organizations in special relation to communication decision making and leadership
