Mark Lam, John Graham, 2007 Publisher description Asia, 1934 Today's Universities: Combining Rigour with Relevance Michigan State University, 2015-08-05 Last year the Dubai International Conference in Higher Education considered the global challenge of sustaining success in higher education This year we posed the question How do universities combine rigour with relevance Once again we have invited all those involved in the higher education community to come together to share insights related to the provision of education that is rigorous and at the same time relevant. The three key premises of the conference are these:

- 1 Higher education institutions must demonstrate their relevance to the needs of the workforce in a landscape of constant and rapid economic and social change.
- 2 They must maintain the rigorous academic standards that are the hallmark of a quality institution.
- 3 With the accelerating power and reach of the web, universities must meet unprecedented challenges as technological innovation disrupts their traditional business model. Unless individual universities prove that they are capable of adapting successfully in the face of these three pressures, their futures may be uncertain.

Multilingual Singapore Ritu Jain, 2021-05-25

This volume brings together researchers whose analysis and insights provide a comprehensive and up-to-date account of Singapore's rich linguistic diversity. Applying a combination of descriptive, empirical, and theoretical approaches, the authors investigate not only official languages such as English, Mandarin, Malay, and Tamil, but also minority languages such as the Chinese vernaculars and South Asian and Austronesian languages. The chapters in this volume trace the historical development, contemporary status, and functions of these languages, as well as potential scenarios for the future. Exploring the tension between language policies and linguistic realities in Singapore, the contributions in this volume capture the shifting educational, political, and societal priorities of the community through its past and contemporary present.

Multilingualism in the Chinese Diaspora Worldwide Li Wei, 2015-10-16

In this volume, Li Wei brings together contributions from well-known and emerging scholars in socio- and anthropological linguistics, working on different linguistic and communicative aspects of the Chinese diaspora. The project examines the Chinese diasporic experience from a global comparative perspective, with a particular focus on transnational links and local social and multilingual realities. Contributors address the emergence of new forms of Chinese in multilingual contexts, family language policy and practice, language socialization, and identity development, multilingual creativity, linguistic attitudes and ideologies, and heritage language maintenance, loss, learning, and re-learning. The studies are based on empirical observations and investigations in Chinese communities across the globe including well researched from a sociolinguistic perspective areas such as North America Western Europe and Australia as well as under explored and under represented areas such as Africa Latin America Central Asia and the Middle East the volume also includes detailed ethnographic accounts representing regions with a high concentration of Chinese migration such as Southeast Asia This volume not only will allow sociolinguists to investigate the link between linguistic phenomena in specific communities and wider socio cultural processes but also invites an open dialogue with researchers from other disciplines who are working on migration diaspora and identity and those studying other language based diasporic communities such as the Russian diaspora the Spanish diaspora the Portuguese diaspora and the Arabic diaspora Summary of World Broadcasts British Broadcasting Corporation. Monitoring Service,1987 The Chinese in Brunei Ooi Keat Gin,2026-02-02 This book presents diverse perspectives on issues faced by the Chinese minority in predominantly Malay Muslim Brunei drawing together cutting edge research from early career Brunei Chinese academics themselves to present a truly groundbreaking volume As a result of strict immigration rules and citizenship requirements following Brunei s independence in 1984 the population of ethnically Chinese residents in the country has declined consistently Despite this the Chinese community are significant in the region playing a pivotal role through their sizeable socioeconomic contributions Chapters shed light on a broad range of issues and challenges faced by the Chinese community in Brunei from adaptation in wider society and struggles around ethnic identity and belonging to loss of dialect language religious freedom and the ongoing pressures around assimilation Though the volume naturally focuses in depth on the Chinese experience in Brunei the book relates the themes explored to broader international contexts where ethnic minorities are present drawing parallels and reinforcing the global relevance of the book This book will be of interest to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of Southeast Asian culture and society diaspora studies and race and ethnic studies more broadly Chung-kuo yü wen chiao shih hsüeh hui hsüeh pao ,2005 Language George Melville Bolling,Bernard Bloch,2005 China Review ,2007 Speak Cantonese Parker Po-fei Huang, Gerard P. Kok,1963 Religious and Ritual Change Pamela J. Stewart,Andrew Strathern,2009 The topic of religious and ritual change including conversion from one modality of practices to another has emerged in recent years as a prime focus of scholarly attention in anthropology and related disciplines such as history sociology political science and religious studies Conversion to Christianity is one focus that has developed within this broad and dynamic field of investigations This edited volume is a unique set of studies that explores this field further with a doubly innovative approach First the chapters represent a collaboration of leading scholars from Taiwan and from the USA and Europe Second the studies involve a comparative dimension juxtaposing work done among indigenous Austronesian minorities in Taiwan and work done in the Pacific Islands Papua New Guinea and the Solomon Islands Within this collection of essays common processes of change are evident while the importance of specific histories is revealed and analytical and theoretical issues are probed and reviewed in ways that demonstrate their relevance to the overall dimensions of comparison. No other work in this arena of study has brought together scholars with such a comparative framework in mind. This volume is relevant for scholars and students of religious change generally as well as those readers who are interested in the wider Asia Pacific region, minority groups, Christianity, indigenous movements, and the socialization of the ritual body in contexts of historical and cosmological change. This book is part of the Ritual Studies Monograph Series edited by Pamela J. Stewart and Andrew Strathern, Department of Anthropology, University of Pittsburgh. A wide range of views are offered. Overall, the book offers itself as a detailed archive of ethnographic information for further analysis and interpretation of these and other issues.
