William Makepeace Thackeray

We Were Strangers:

The Fordowner, 1915 Hollywood in Havana Megan Feeney, 2019-01-04 From the turn of the twentieth century through the late 1950s Havana was a locus for American movie stars with glamorous visitors including Errol Flynn John Wayne and Marlon Brando In fact Hollywood was seemingly everywhere in pre Castro Havana with movie theaters three to a block in places widely circulated silver screen fanzines and terms like cowboy and gangster entering Cuban vernacular speech Hollywood in Havana uses this historical backdrop as the catalyst for a startling question Did exposure to half a century of Hollywood pave the way for the Cuban Revolution of 1959 Megan Feeney argues that the freedom fighting extolled in American World War II dramas and the rebellious values and behaviors seen in postwar film noir helped condition Cuban audiences to expect and even demand purer forms of Cuban democracy and national sovereignty At the same time influential Cuban intellectuals worked to translate Hollywood ethics into revolutionary rhetoric which ironically led to pointed critiques and subversions of the US presence in Cuba Hollywood in Havana not only expands our notions of how American cinema was internalized around the world it also broadens our view of the ongoing history of US Cuban interactions both cultural and political

The Films of John Garfield James Neibaur, John Garfield was and remains one of the most impactful actors of 20th century American cinema A towering influence on so many screen performers who came along afterward Garfield managed to create a lasting image despite living a life that was marked with tragedy including the loss of a child When he left the studios and began doing independent films his politics informed his projects and he was blacklisted by Hollywood leading to his early death of a heart attack at only 39 years of age This book is a film by film look at his work from the brash characters he played in his studio productions to the tormented antiheroes of film noir that he later portrayed His work continues to resonate into the 21st century

Jewish Man and Other Songs Beatrice Heath Tomlinson, 2012-04-30 The following poems are prayers and songs Except for Cuba Errante which is a plea to the Mother of God to intercede for the difficult plight of Cubans both at home and abroad these songs are meditations based on biblical passages and themes I call them poetic icons because like the ancient pictorial icons of our Judeo Christian heritage the intent of these poems is also first to focus the attention of the reader into the scene that is being depicted in order to see the presence of God at work in that particular scene and in its characters second the intent is to help readers catch a glimpse of the divine presence and warmth that illuminates each particular scene Third as is the case with sacred pictorial icons it is also the intent of these poems to help readers in the present time identify with the struggles of those ancient biblical characters and with the way the Spirit of God is still at work now in each of the readers that contemplate these scenes I was inspired to write some of these poems in English others in Spanish In some cases I made the effort to make the poems available in both languages Thank you for your patience with the bilingual nature of this collection Is there music to these songs Yes and it is our hope to make it available to you in an ensuing publication Thank you again
