

Four Square

Rules and Winning Strategies

- ✔ Draw a large square divided into four smaller squares, labeled A, B, C, and D.
- ✔ Players stand in each square, with one player occupying each square.
- ✔ Player in Square A serving the ball by bouncing it into another player's square. The ball must bounce once in the serving player's square before being hit.
- ✔ Players must hit the ball into another player's square without it touching the ground in their own square.
- ✔ Players rotate squares clockwise each time a player is eliminated or makes an error.
- ✔ Players are eliminated if they:
 - Fail to hit the ball into another player's square.
 - Hit the ball out of bounds.
 - Let the ball bounce twice in their square.
 - Hit the ball into the net.
- ✔ Players earn points for each elimination they make. The last player remaining in Square A wins the game and becomes the server for the next round.
