of no mind a state beyond thought emotions and expectations Work that is produced through conscious effort is ultimately devoid of life Zen calligraphy in particular must spring from shonen sozoku a Buddhist term equivalent to true thought Shonen is a state of full concentration that is devoid of thoughts and ideas while sozoku here means free flowing continuity Greatness in brushwork cannot be achieved through conscious effort it is only achieved through the states of mu shin and shonen sozoku or no mind and a continuous state free of the thoughts and ideas that distract the mind Zen calligraphy differs from other calligraphic disciplines as it is focused on the realization of no mind Furthermore in contrast to sho which uses Chinese characters as a basis it is the expression of Zen through a brush whether the result is a single stroke a Zen circle or an ink painting While sho is restricted to brushed writing Zen calligraphy extends to other forms of brushwork Nearly all calligraphy today is born of conscious attention to an aesthetic concept but we rarely find lines that are truly alive In contrast the calligraphy of Zen masters such as Daito Kokushi 1282 1337 founder of Daitokuji temple in Kyoto or Ikkyu Sojun 1394 1481 resonates with the energy of no mind achieved through complete concentration In these works the lines are filled with vitality and the shapes are fresh and original Sen no Rikyu 1522 91 who established many of the basic precepts of the tea ceremony held that nothing surpassed Zen calligraphy as a subject for display in the alcove of the tea room He undoubtedly felt that only art works that reflect the eternal vitality of Zen writings could encourage the mind toward enlightenment Rikyu recognized that calligraphy necessarily demands the highest level of spirituality A line that manifests clarity cannot be drawn if the heart is clouded by worldly concerns a stroke cannot be brushed with resolution if the heart is agitated and calligraphy that reveals depth cannot be produced if cultivation and experience are shallow To write kanji characters that resonate and demonstrate their deeper meaning one's own mind must achieve unity with the meaning of the words a requirement that calls for a higher level of spirituality The calligrapher therefore must strive for the state of no mind through meditation and contemplation
