Visual Metaphors Evelyn Payne Hatcher, 1989      On Floods and Photo Ops Paul Martin Lester, 2010 A close study of the visual record left by political visits following disasters Presidents Herbert Clark Hoover and George Walker Bush were challenged many times during their political careers On Floods and Photo Ops How Herbert Hoover and George W Bush Exploited Catastrophes focuses on the visual record of two such tests the relief efforts led by Commerce Secretary Hoover during the 1927 Mississippi River flood and the Bush team s response to Hurricane Katrina By concentrating on these two historic events Paul Martin Lester discusses political photography particularly the use of photo ops during catastrophes He illuminates the evolution of a genre and explores the differences and similarities between these two American politicians Hoover and Bush reached the pinnacle of political achievement only to lose in the court of popular opinion From two photo ops that occurred almost eighty years apart Lester offers a model for close readings and comparisons of images in practicing visual history Under Lester s examination these otherwise unremarkable photographs speak volumes about political response to natural disasters He offers readers not just a deeper appreciation of these pictures but a methodology for seriously studying photographs and what they can reveal about a historical moment Paul Martin Lester is a professor of communications at California State University Fullerton He is the author of Visual Communication Images with Messages and Photojournalism An Ethical Approach and coeditor of Images That Injure Pictorial Stereotypes in the Media

New Directions in Advertising Rhetoric Edward F. McQuarrie, Barbara J. Phillips, 2014-12-18

Rhetorical scholarship has found rich source material in the disciplines of advertising communications research and consumer behavior Advertising considered as a kind of communication is distinguished by its focus on causing action Its goal is not simply to communicate ideas educate or persuade but to move a prospect closer to a purchase The editors of Go Figure New Directions in Advertising Rhetoric have been involved in developing the scholarship of advertising rhetoric for many years In this volume they have assembled the most current and authoritative new perspectives on this topic The chapter authors all present previously unpublished concepts that represent advances beyond what is already known about advertising rhetoric In the opening and closing chapters editors Ed McQuarrie and Barbara Phillips provide an integrative view of the current state of the art in advertising rhetoric

QUALITATIVE RESEARCH METHODS Tools and Techniques Prof. Dr. Dileep Kumar M, Dr. Manju Rajan Babu, Dr. Saji George, Dr. Normala S. Govindarajo, Qualitative research has emerged as an indispensable mode of inquiry for understanding the complexity depth and contextual richness of human Behaviour social processes and organizational realities In an era marked by rapid social transformation technological disruption and evolving organizational forms researchers are increasingly confronted with phenomena that cannot be adequately explained through numerical data alone It is within this intellectual landscape that Qualitative Research Methods Tools and Techniques has been conceived to offer a comprehensive rigorous and practice oriented exposition of qualitative inquiry for scholars researchers and advanced learners across disciplines This book is designed to serve as both a foundational text and an advanced reference for qualitative research It systematically integrates philosophical underpinnings methodological frameworks and contemporary analytical tools to enable readers to develop a nuanced understanding of qualitative inquiry Beginning with the evolution nature and defining characteristics of qualitative research the text carefully situates qualitative methods within broader research paradigms highlighting their distinct epistemological and ontological assumptions By engaging with interpretivism constructivism critical theory and postmodern perspectives the book equips readers to make informed methodological choices aligned with their research objectives and worldviews A distinguishing feature of this work is its balanced emphasis on theory and application Each stage of the qualitative research process problem formulation research design sampling data collection coding analysis interpretation and validation is addressed with conceptual clarity and methodological depth Special attention has been given to widely used qualitative methods such as interviews focus group discussions observation document analysis and narrative inquiry alongside emerging approaches including digital ethnography netnography and visual analysis Ethical considerations and issues of rigor and trustworthiness are discussed in detail reflecting the growing demand for accountability and reflexivity in qualitative scholarship Recognizing the increasing role of technology in research the book also introduces readers to Computer Assisted Qualitative Data Analysis Software CAQDAS offering practical insights into tools such as NVivo ATLAS ti MAXQDA and JAMovi This integration ensures that readers are not only theoretically grounded but also methodologically equipped to manage and analyze complex qualitative datasets in contemporary research environments Furthermore the discussion on mixed methods research underscores the complementary strengths of qualitative and quantitative approaches encouraging methodological pluralism rather than rigid methodological divides This text is intended for postgraduate students doctoral researchers faculty members and practitioners in social sciences management education healthcare public administration and allied disciplines It is particularly suited for those seeking to move beyond procedural understandings of research toward reflective context sensitive and ethically grounded inquiry The structure of the book enriched with learning objectives summaries and reflective questions makes it equally suitable for classroom use guided research training and independent study The authors hope that this book will not merely function as a manual of methods but as an intellectual companion that encourages critical thinking methodological reflexivity and scholarly curiosity By foregrounding meaning context and human experience Qualitative Research Methods Tools and Techniques aspires to contribute to the development of rigorous responsible and impactful research that advances knowledge and informs practice in a complex and pluralistic world

The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Business and Management Research Methods Catherine Cassell, Ann L Cunliffe, Gina Grandy, 2021-08-04 The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Business and Management Research Methods provides a state of the art overview of qualitative research methods in the business and management field The Handbook celebrates the diversity of the field by drawing from a wide range of traditions and by bringing together a number of leading international researchers engaged in studying a variety of topics through multiple qualitative methods The chapters address the philosophical underpinnings of particular approaches to research contemporary illustrations references and practical guidelines for their use The two volumes therefore provide a useful resource for Ph D students and early career researchers interested in developing and expanding their knowledge and practice of qualitative research In covering established and emerging methods it also provides an invaluable source of information for faculty teaching qualitative research methods The contents of the Handbook are arranged into two volumes covering seven key themes

Volume One History and Tradition Part One Influential Traditions underpinning qualitative research positivism interpretivism pragmatism constructionism critical poststructuralism hermeneutics postcolonialism critical realism mixed methods grounded theory feminist and indigenous approaches Part Two Research Designs ethnography field research action research case studies process and practice methodologies Part Three The Researcher positionality reflexivity ethics gender and intersectionality writing from the body and achieving critical distance Part Four Challenges research design access and departure choosing participants research across boundaries writing for different audiences ethics in international research digital ethics and publishing qualitative research

Smith, Sandra Moriarty, Keith Kenney, Gretchen Barbatsis, 2004-12-13 This Handbook of Visual Communication explores the key theoretical areas in visual communication and presents the research methods utilized in exploring how people see and how visual communication occurs With chapters contributed by many of the best known and respected scholars in visual communication this volume brings together significant and influential work in the visual communication discipline The theory chapters included here define the twelve major theories in visual communication scholarship aesthetics perception representation visual rhetoric cognition semiotics reception theory narrative media aesthetics ethics visual literacy and cultural studies Each of these theory chapters is followed by exemplar studies in the area demonstrating the various methods used in visual communication research as well as the research approaches applicable for specific media types The Handbook serves as an invaluable reference for visual communication theory as well as a useful resource book of research methods in the discipline It defines the current state of theory and research in visual communication and serves as a foundation for future scholarship and study As such it is required reading for scholars researchers and advanced students in visual communication and it will be influential in other disciplines in which the visual component is key including advertising persuasion and media studies The volume will also be useful to practitioners seeking to understand the visual aspects of their media and the visual processes used by their audiences Contemporary Danish Fiber Art Leslie Marsh Butterfield, 1990 Semiotica, 1998 Dine Bibliography to the 1990s Howard M. Bahr, 1999-06 The Navajo are the largest tribe of Indians in the United States and due in part to a fascination with their relative isolation have been analyzed in numerous documentaries In this timely supplement to the Navajo Bibliography Howard M Bahr engages in a unique postmodern approach to his bibliography of the Navajo culture by combining health related artistic economic religious social scientific and other literature on the Navajo into one study The bibliography skillfully downplays disciplinary boundaries by unifying literature that has previously only offered separate classification and access The more than 6 300 entries are selectively annotated and cover Navajo literature from 1970 to 1990 as well as newly discovered literature including Franciscans literature that was not included in the original Navajo Bibliography This bibliography is not only the most comprehensive bibliography to date in its coverage of more than two decades of new material but the only source that supplements the professional literature with local and cultural works An exhaustive resource that effectively doubles the expanse of Navajo literature surveyed and indexed Din Bibliography to the 1990s is an invaluable tool that both highlights the literature already available and expands such data to include coverage of genres that have been previously underrepresented Encompassing Beauty Julie S. Rivers, 1991-09-06 Transmutations is the first book length study of caricature as both a literary and visual phenomenon By employing an interdisciplinary approach Professor Rivers identifies the mechanisms of caricature analyzes how they work and examines the reader viewer s role in the creation and interpretation of caricature Many of the examples used in the text are from the works of Balzac and Daumier but caricatures cartoons and comic strips of a variety of cultures and eras are offered as well Also included is the first comprehensive and international bibliography of caricature Contents Preliminary Considerations Problems Definitions Goals Part One Distortion The Disfigurement of the Norm Part Two Transmutation The Rhetoric of Caricature Part Three Context The Matrix of Caricature Conclusion The Ideology of Caricature      Recent Trends in Theoretical Psychology

International Society for Theoretical Psychology. Conference, 1993 I was asked and alas with little reflection on the magnitude of the task thoughtlessly consented to take on the simple job of writing a preface to the collection of essays comprising this volume That I was asked to carry out this simple task was probably due to one consideration I was the main representative of the host institution Clark University for the 1991 ISTP Conference at which the talks foreshadowing and outlining the extended remarks here printed were originally presented and hence as a token of gratitude I was vouchsafed the honor of setting the stage It did not dawn on me until I began piecemeal to receive and accumulate over a period of months the remarkably diverse and heterogeneous essays precipitated by the conference how mind boggling it would be to pen a preface pertinent to such an aggregate of prima acie unrelated articles Typically prefaces to collections of essays from different hands are attempts by the prefator or a pride of prefators to provide an overview a concise map of the complex terrain which readers are invited to enter or to direct the attention of potential readers to what the editors take to be the essential or central themes of each of the variegated articles a practice which not infrequently and often not unjustifiably irritates and even enrages individual authors who object to the complexity profundity and nuanced character of their thought being reduced to clicMs and editorial equivalents of sound bites      Visual Metaphor Gerard J. Steen, 2018-12-15 Metaphor has recently been reconceptualised as a fundamental part of the human conceptual system It can hence be expressed in language but also in other modalities and media of communication including gesture and body language sound and music and film and visuals In spite of this theoretical landslide however the wide range of nonverbal metaphor and its processing has neither been empirically investigated on the same scale nor with the same rigour as metaphor in language The overarching goal of this book is to report on the findings of a research program aimed at exploiting the vast cognitive linguistic and psycholinguistic expertise on metaphor in language for a new behaviourally founded approach to the structure and processes of metaphor in one of these nonverbal manifestations namely static visuals The book presents concepts and methods for the identification and analysis of metaphor in document structure as well as new approaches to the study of visual metaphor processing Its results are intended to further the development of an encompassing and robust cognitive scientific theory of metaphor by including visual metaphor while also enriching our understanding of the communicative possibilities and effects of visual metaphor in multimodal discourse      The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1992
