Strategic Arms Control After Salt:

Strategic Arms Control After Salt Stephen Cimbala,1989-05 The Strategic Defense Initiative Ralph L. Dietl,2018-08-15 The Nuclear and Space Talks revolutionized arms control The Cold War endgame commenced with the umbrella negotiations that linked START and INF negotiations to a regulation on the weaponization of space This volume reveals a US grand strategy to replace deterrence with a collective security order An entente of the superpowers was needed to transform bipolarity The US planned the replacement of mutually assured destruction by mutually assured security A global astrodome was to protect a nuclear disarmed world The Franco German special relationship in European affairs had to be amended by a US SU special relationship to replace classic bloc politics The Reagan Administration planned a global zero agenda a joint development of a global protective system and a creation of a Common House of Europe In brief the superpowers prepared the velvet revolution that eliminated the Cold War structures Neither containment nor convergence offers a valid explanation of the Cold War endgame Co creation is the key to decipher the end of the Cold War NATO Europe challenged the transformation of bipolarity The European NWS resisted to a multilateralization of strategic arms control In Europe the classic Cold War thinking survived the fall of the Iron Curtain European conservatism contributed to the geopolitical catastrophe of the first order the downfall of the Soviet Union The Reagan Administration developed a Grand Strategy to end the Cold War The US SU co creation of an astrodome was meant to ease a global zero agenda A global collective security structure under the United Nations was to replace deterrence The superpower project collapsed due to the penetration of US decision making by NATO Allies The European NWS totally objected to a multilateralization of strategic arms control to preserve their relative position in the international system International Negotiations: A Bibliography Amos Lakos,2019-02-22 The international system comprises a plurality of sovereign states often pursuing conflicting interests One means of resolving or managing conflicts between those states is diplomatic bargaining or negotiation In the last fifteen years the study of negotiation has attracted researchers from various disciplines in the social sciences and the vol National Security, Military Power & the Role of Force in International Relations Army Library (U.S.),1976 National Security, Military Power & the Role of Force in International Relations United States. Department of the Army,1976 Congressional Record United States. Congress,1984 The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress It is published daily when Congress is in session The Congressional Record began publication in 1873 Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789 1824 the Register of Debates in Congress 1824 1837 and the Congressional Globe 1833 1873 Public Affairs Information Service Bulletin ,1988 Arms, Defense Policy, and Arms Control ,1975 Russian & East European Studies Indexed Journal Reference Guide ,1977 Bulletin of the Public Affairs Information Service Public Affairs Information Service,1989 Arms Control and European Security Joseph I.

David M. Barrett,1993 Lyndon Johnson when it comes to his role in the Vietnam war is popularly portrayed as an irrational hawkish leader who bullied his advisers and refused to solicit a wide range of opinions That depiction David Barrett argues is simplistic and far from accurate America's Space Sentinels Jeffrey Richelson,1999 During much of the Cold War America's first line of defense was in outer space a network of secret satellites that could provide instant warning of an enemy missile launch The presence of these infrared sensors orbiting 22 000 miles above the earth discouraged a Soviet first strike and stabilized international relations between the superpowers and they now play a crucial role in monitoring the missile programs of China India and other emerging nuclear powers Jeffrey Richelson has written the first comprehensive history of this vital program tracing its evolution from the late 1950s to the present He puts Defense Support Program operations in the context of world events from Russian missile programs to the Gulf War and explains how DSP's infrared sensors are used to detect meteorites monitor forest fires and even gather industrial intelligence by seeing the lights of steel mills

Disarmament, a Select Bibliography, 1973-1977 Dag Hammarskjöld Library,1978 Peace and the Sciences,1983 Defense White Paper ,1992 The Constitution and the Conduct of American Foreign Policy David Gray Adler,Larry Nelson George,1996 In this provocative and readable volume eleven leading constitutional authorities challenge business as usual in American foreign policymaking For far too long they contend Americans have acquiesced to presidential claims to sweeping executive powers in foreign affairs thanks to imperial minded presidents a weak willed Congress and neglectful scholars These authors forcefully argue that the president is not the supreme crafter of foreign policy and that Congress must provide more than a rubber stamp for the president's agenda Unilateral presidential control of foreign relations they warn can pose a grave threat to our nation's welfare and is simply without constitutional warrant Combining constitutional theory with keen historical insights these authors illuminate the roots of presidential abuse of executive power and remind us of the past and potential costs of such disregard for our unique system of checks and balances An essential guide for all concerned citizens and members of Congress this volume should help revive a proper understanding of this crucial dimension of American democracy Red Commanders Roger R. Reese,2005 One of the largest and most feared military forces in the world the Red Army was a key player in advancing the cause of Soviet socialism Rising out of revolutionary era citizen militias it aspired to the greatness needed to confront its Cold War adversaries but was woefully unprepared to change with the times In this first comprehensive study of the Soviet officer corps Roger Reese traces the history of the Red Army from Civil War triumph through near decimation in World War II and demoralizing quagmire in Afghanistan to the close scrutiny it came under during Gorbachev's reform era Reese takes readers inside the Red Army to reconstruct the social and institutional dynamics that shaped its leadership and effectiveness over seventy three years He depicts the lives of these officers by revealing their class origins life experiences party loyalty and attitudes toward professionalism He tells how these men were shaped by Russian culture and Soviet politics and how the Communist Party dominated every aspect of their careers but never allowed them the autonomy they needed to cultivate a high level of military effectiveness Despite its struggle to develop and maintain professionalism the officer corps was often hampered by factors inextricably intertwined with the Soviet state Marxist theory revolutionary ideology friction between party and non party members and the influence of the army s political administration organs Reese shows that by rejecting the Western bourgeois model of military professionalism the state greatly limited its officer corps ability to develop a more effective military While a sense of group identity emerged among officers after World War II it quickly lost relevance in the face of postwar challenges especially the war in Afghanistan which underscored fatal flaws in command leadership Red Commanders offers new insight into the workings of a military giant and also restores Leon Trotsky to his rightful place in Soviet military history by featuring his ideas on building a new army from the ground up It is an important look behind the scenes at a military establishment that continues to face leadership challenges in Russia today
