Teaching and Evaluating Student Writing Mary Ann Trost, 1985 Teaching and Evaluating Student Writing , 1988
Discusses how to improve the teaching of writing in the classroom how student compositions should be evaluated and the relation of writing to other studies Assigning, Responding, Evaluating Edward M. White, Cassie A. Wright, 2015-05-08 The advent and innovation of computer technologies for composing has dramatically and rapidly changed the classroom environment and even the curriculum with which writing teachers now find themselves charged to teach writing Assigning Responding Evaluating A Writing Teacher's Guide is designed to help the teacher create writing assignments evaluate student writing and respond to that writing in a consistent and explainable way But it also suggests ways that writing programs can take advantage of our new digital environment and meet the increasing demands for accountability without decreasing the role or creativity of teachers or the importance of writing instruction to college education McDougal, Littell English: Teaching and evaluating student writing Allan A. Glatthorn, 1988 What Student Writing Teaches Us Mark Overmeyer, 2009 This book provides practical suggestions for teachers of writing Framed within the context of writing workshop the book examines the reasons for reading student work and provides various methods for helping students improve as writers book cover Assessing and Improving Student Writing in College Barbara E. Walvoord, 2014-07-07 Step by step guidance for shaping better writers while keeping faculty workloads manageable Effective communication is a critical skill for many academic disciplines and careers and so colleges and universities and their faculty members are rightfully committed to improving student writing across the curriculum Guiding and assessing student writing in classrooms general education and departments takes knowledge planning and persistence but it can be done effectively and efficiently Written in the concise accessible style Barbara Walvoord is known for Assessing and Improving Student Writing in College A Guide for Institutions General Education Departments and Classrooms offers administrators program chairs general education leaders and classroom instructors the guidance they need The book provides concrete suggestions for how to Articulate goals for student writing Measure student writing Improve student writing Document that improvement The book begins by addressing four basic concepts what we mean by writing what we mean by good writing how students learn to write and the purposes of assessment Next Walvoord explains the various approaches and methods for assessing writing urging a combination of them adapted to the institution's purposes and political context After this introduction successive chapters offer realistic practical advice to institution wide and general education leaders department members and classroom instructors Walvoord addresses issues such as how to engage faculty how to use rubrics how to aggregate assessment information at the department and institutional levels and how to report assessment information to accreditors The chapter for classroom instructors offers practical suggestions how to add more writing to a course without substantially increasing the grading load how to construct writing assignments how to make grading and responding more effective and time efficient how to address grammar and punctuation and how to support students whose native language is not English The book also includes four helpful appendices a taxonomy of Writing Across the Curriculum WAC and Writing in the Disciplines WID programs sample outlines for faculty development workshops a student survey on teaching methods instructors can use to inform their choices in the classroom and a student self check cover sheet designed to help students take ownership of their own learning and responsibility for turning in complete correct assignments Practical step by step guidance for each point in the assessment and improvement process creates a cohesive institution wide system that keeps students faculty and administrators on the same page

Assigning, Responding, Evaluating Edward M. White, 2002-11 Assigning Responding Evaluating offers teaching faculty a new kind of support for the writing class It is not a mere collection of tests and assignments though it includes both but is rather an evaluation guide based on writing and reading theory and integrally related to the teaching of writing It is designed to help the teacher create writing assignments evaluate student writing and respond to that writing in a consistent and explainable way Book jacket
