Tokyo Unfolds:

Tokyo Evelyn Schulz, Barbara E. Thornbury, 2017-10-17 Tokyo Memory Imagination and the City is a collection of eight essays that explore Tokyo urban space from the perspective of memory in works of the imagination novels short stories poetry essays and films Written by scholars of Japanese studies based in England Germany Japan and the United States the book focuses on texts produced in Japan since the 1980s The closing years of the Showa period 1926 1989 were a watershed decade of spatial transformation in Tokyo It was also a time in Japan as elsewhere when conversations about the nature of memory historical cultural collective and individual intensified The contributors to the volume share the view that works of the imagination are constitutive elements of how cities are experienced and perceived Each of the essays responds to the growing interest in studies on Tokyo with a literary cultural orientation

Unfolding the 'Comfort Women' Debates
Maki Kimura, 2016-01-26 This study offers a fresh perspective on the comfort women debates It argues that the system can be understood as the mechanism of the intersectional oppression of gender race class and colonialism while illuminating the importance of testimonies of victim survivors as the site where women recover and gain their voices and agencies

Unfolding Beauty Cleveland Museum of Art, Michael R. Cunningham, 2001 From its earliest days the Cleveland Museum of Art has demonstrated an active interest in Asian art An important aspect of this initiative is the interest in the indigenous art of Japan evident in the museum's collection of screens in which narrative subjects receive emphasis equal to those of the earlier Chinese dominated tradition Forty four Japanese screens many of them pairs from the late 15th to the early 19th centuries represent one of the largest and best collections in the West This exhibition catalogue illustrates all these extraordinary objects together for the first time in a generous format and the highest quality reproduction

Legacies of the Asia-Pacific War
Roman Rosenbaum, Yasuko Claremont, 2012-09-10 When we look in detail at the various peripheral groups of disenfranchised people emerging from the aftermath of the Asia Pacific War the list is startling Koreans in Japan migrants or forced labourers Burakumin Hibakusha Okinawans Asian minorities comfort women and many others Many of these groups have been discussed in a large corpus of what we may call disenfranchised literature and the research presented in this book intends to add an additional and particularly controversial example to the long list of the voice and powerless. The presence of members of what is known as the yakeato sedai or the generation of people who experienced the fire bombings of the Asia Pacific War is conspicuous in all areas of contemporary Japan. From literature to the visual arts from music to theatre from architecture to politics their influence and in many cases guiding principles is evident everywhere and in many cases forms the keystone of modern Japanese society and culture. The contributors to this book explore the impact of the yakeato generation and their literary creative and cultural works on the postwar period by drawing out the importance of the legacy of those people who truly survived the darkest hour of the twentieth century and re-evaluate the ramifications of their experiences in contemporary Japanese society and culture. As such this book will be of huge interest to those studying Japanese history literature poetry and cultural studies.

The Nanjing Massacre: A Japanese Journalist Confronts Japan's National Shame Katsuichi Honda, Frank Gibney, Karen Sandness, 2015-02-24 This book is based on four visits to China between 1971 and 1989 by Honda Katsuichi an investigative journalist for Asahi Shimbun. His aim is to show in pitiless detail the horrors of the Japanese Army's seizure and capture of Nanjing in December 1937. Unvarnished accounts of the testimony of Chinese victims and Japanese perpetrators to the rape and slaughter are juxtaposed with public relations announcements of the Japanese Army as printed in various Japanese newspapers of the time. The bland announcements of triumphant victories stand in bitter contrast to the atrocities that actually took place on the scene. The story unfolds with horrible detail as we watch the triumphant progress of the Japanese army whose troops were bent on rape and killing in the so-called heat of battle. Yet by recalling the testimony of Japanese soldiers and reporters who were on the scene as well as reproducing dispatches by Japanese Army authorities at the time Honda makes it clear that the atrocities were part of a studied effort directed by the Japanese high command to impress the Chinese people with the power of its army and the folly of resistance to it. The estimate of 300,000 killed in these military operations is no exaggeration. Honda has worked with other Japanese journalists and scholars who have attempted to reveal the truth of the Nanjing massacre provoked by the efforts of right-wing Japanese including sadly many government officials to whitewash the whole incident even to the point of contending that a massacre never happened. This gripping account of the atrocities and cover-up joins other exposes of Chinese and now German in keeping alive the memory of this shameful event.
