

The Spectrum of Teaching Styles

The command style (a)

Teacher makes all the decisions before, during, and after the lesson. All exercises are performed after a certain stimulus, such as a whistle.

The practice style (b)

Teacher shows the task and gives room for learners to practice at their own pace. Teacher follows and gives feedback.

The reciprocal style (c)

Students work in pairs and take turns observing & giving feedback to each other using performance criteria.

The self-check style (d)

Similar to reciprocal style but students work on their own.

The inclusion style (e)

Teacher sets out tasks with varying levels of difficulty. Pupils decide which task is most appropriate for their abilities and motivations.

Guided discovery (f)

The teacher uses questions to guide the learners towards a single predetermined response or solution.

Convergent discovery (g)

Learners discover new content by producing a single correct response to an unfamiliar specific problem, question, or situation.

Divergent discovery (h)

Teacher designs problems that engage students to find multiple solutions.

Learner-designed individual program (i)

Students have the opportunity to design, develop and present a series of tasks organized into a personal program.

Learner-initiated style (j)

The learner initiates their own learning experience by deciding the learning intent, objectives, the logistics, procedures, and assessment criteria.

Self-teaching (k)

The learner accepts the decision-making roles of both teacher and learner.

Darwin Day in America John G. West,2014-04-22 At the dawn of the last century leading scientists and politicians giddily predicted that science especially Darwinian biology would supply solutions to all the intractable problems of American society from crime to poverty to sexual maladjustment Instead politics and culture were dehumanized as scientific experts began treating human beings as little more than animals or machines In criminal justice these experts denied the existence of free will and proposed replacing punishment with invasive cures such as the lobotomy In welfare they proposed eliminating the poor by sterilizing those deemed biologically unfit In business they urged the selection of workers based on racist theories of human evolution and the development of advertising methods to more effectively manipulate consumer behavior In sex education they advocated creating a new sexual morality based on normal mammalian behavior without regard to longstanding ethical and religious imperatives Based on extensive research with primary sources and archival materials John G West s captivating Darwin Day in America tells the story of how American public policy has been corrupted by scientific ideology Marshaling fascinating anecdotes and damning quotations West s narrative explores the far reaching consequences for society when scientists and politicians deny the essential differences between human beings and the rest of nature It also exposes the disastrous results that ensue when experts claiming to speak for science turn out to be wrong West concludes with a powerful plea for the restoration of democratic accountability in an age of experts
