Sustainable Real Estate in the Developing World offers a perfect and ideal synthesis of works that examine sustainability within various facets of real estate and urban development in the developing world. A must read for academics, researchers, policy makers and students in all the built environment disciplines. International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home, 2012-10-09 Available online via SciVerse ScienceDirect or in print for a limited time only. The International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home Seven Volume Set is the first international reference work for housing scholars and professionals that uses studies in economics and finance, psychology, social policy, sociology, anthropology, geography, architecture, law and other disciplines to create an international portrait of housing in all its facets from meanings of home at the microscale to impacts on macro economy. This comprehensive work is edited by distinguished housing expert Susan J Smith together with Marja Elsinga Ong Seow Eng, Lorna Fox O Mahony and Susan Wachter and a multi-disciplinary editorial team of 20 world class scholars in all working at the cutting edge of their subject, liaising with an expert editorial advisory board and engaging with policy makers and professionals. The editors have worked for almost five years to secure the quality, reach, relevance and coherence of this work. A broad and inclusive table of contents signals or testifies to detailed investigation of historical and theoretical material as well as in depth analysis of current issues. This seven volume set contains over 500 entries listed alphabetically but grouped into seven thematic sections including methods and approaches, economics and finance, environments, home and homelessness, institutions, policy and welfare and well being. Housing professionals, both academics and practitioners will find The International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home useful for teaching, discovery and research needs. International in scope, engaging with trends in every world region. The editorial board and contributors are drawn from a wide constituency collating expertise from academics, policy makers, professionals and practitioners and from every key center for housing research. Every entry stands alone on its merits and is accessed alphabetically yet each is fully cross referenced and attached to one of seven thematic categories whose wholes far exceed the sum of their parts.
