Thoughts are Things Prentice Mulford, Charles Fillmore, 2011 THERE belongs to every human being a higher self and a lower self a self or mind of the spirit which has been growing for ages and a self of the body which is but a thing of yesterday The higher self is full of prompting idea suggestion and aspiration This it receives of the Supreme Power All this the lower or animal self regards as wild and visionary The higher self argues possibilities and power for us greater than men and women now possess and enjoy The lower self says we can only live and exist as men and women have lived and existed before us The higher self craves freedom from the cumbersome limitations the pains and disabilities of the body The lower self says that we are born to them born to ill born to suffer and must suffer as have so many before us The higher self wants a standard for right and wrong of its own The lower self says we must accept a standard made for us by others by general and long held opinion belief and prejudice To thine own self be true is an oft uttered adage But to which self The higher or lower from Thoughts are Things Jesus said Judge not according to appearances but judge righteous judgment We are often asked How can we judge between the real and the unreal This difference I might say is sometimes a little difficult to determine As seekers for the Kingdom of God we find that it is necessary to have a knowledge and understanding that transcends the average knowledge of the world The one who is wise with the wisdom of the Spirit must know more than the best trained college professor in the land He must have a better understanding than any of the world s wise ones He must go deeper and have a fuller broader comprehension than any of those who base their knowledge in intellectual ways because there is a great and mighty difference between the realm of appearances and the realm of realities I might say that this difference is between matter and spirit the limited and unlimited or the relative and the absolute from The Real and the Unreal This collection of hard to find New Thought works includes some study questions after each work to provide a path for deeper contemplation of these magical ideas

Edgar Cayce's rare mind, tuned to the Universal Mind, gives us extraordinary insights into the power of our own minds. In this fascinating book, Cayce illustrates how thoughts are things that may become crimes or miracles in our lives. He explains how, by changing our thinking patterns, we can change our life for the better. He also gives a unique view into our mind at sleep, describing the influences motivating our dreams and visions and showing us how to better interpret them. He clarifies why the dreaming mind is so much more important to us than we realize. He also addresses the need to move away from a too self-centered consciousness, opening up to a larger consciousness with powerful intuition and precognition. Things, Thoughts, Words, and Actions H. Lewis Ulman, 1994. Ulman examines the role of grammar and theories of language in the formation of eighteenth-century rhetorical theory, investigating the significance of language theory for such key concerns of eighteenth-century rhetoric as verbal criticism, style, taste, and elocution.
