

A young man's thoughts before June the 16th

Fazel Johennesse

tomorrow i travel on a road that winds to the top of the hill i take with me only the sweet memories of my youth my heart aches for my mother for Friday nights with friends around a table with the broad belch of beer i ask only for a sad song sung by a woman with downturned eye and strummed by an old man with a broken brow
o sing my sad song sing for me for my sunset is drenched with red

Background notes on poet:

Fazel Johennesse (1954 -) is a South African poet. He wrote most of his poetry during the 1970s and early 1980s. He and the poet Chris van Wyk started a Black Consciousness (a movement that promoted an awareness of the dignity and rights of black people, started by Steve Biko) literary magazine, Witfe, which gave a voice to young aspirant black writers. However, the magazine was short-lived, as it was banned by the apartheid government.

Title

On 16 June 1976, high school children from Soweto marched to protest against the government law that half of their schooling had to be in Afrikaans, which they saw as the language of the apartheid leaders and oppressors. The police shot live bullets and teargas, and many were injured or killed. After this tragic episode many young people went into exile to join the underground resistance. In this poem, Johennesse imagines himself as one of those teenagers the day before the event, foreseeing the tragedy that will take place.

Thoughts Of A Young Man:

Thoughts of a Young Man Joyjit Chatterjee, Today's youth has some extremely negative connotations which is slowly leading them to depression and anxiety giving rise to social evils. The rapid switchover from the good old books to the addictive technology and computer games reminds of the good old days of the 90s when people would wait at a bookstore to grab a copy of that special book before the stock was over when the youth would play Kho Kho and Carrom and winning that game would give the happiness that money couldn't buy. In those days reading a short poem would give inner peace to an individual. Through this short collection of poems, random thoughts and inspirational quotes, every person in his/her young days, right from teenagers to university students, from fresh graduates to professionals, would be able to relate with themselves in some way or other. The thoughts unfolding in this book. Great Thoughts from Master Minds, 1899

Thoughts for Young Men Jc Ryle, 2013-05-02 This is a classic book for young people who want to grow in their Christian faith. J C Ryle offers heartfelt advice to young men and urges them toward godliness and leadership while warning against laziness, lust, peer pressure, and other dangers, topics as relevant today as when he first wrote about them. This five-chapter book makes for great youth group, small group, or father and son discussion. At the conclusion of each chapter, you will find a carefully prepared study guide to assist in reading comprehension and discussion. The language has been lightly updated in this edition. An Old Man's Thoughts about Many Things. By George Long, 1872 Transactions of the California State Agricultural Society California State Board of Agriculture, 1890 Gogo Breeze Harri Englund, 2018-02-08 When Breeze FM, a radio station in the provincial Zambian town of Chipata, hired an elderly retired schoolteacher in 2003, no one anticipated the skyrocketing success that would follow. A self-styled grandfather on air, Gogo Breeze seeks intimacy over the airwaves and dispenses advice on a wide variety of grievances and transgressions. Multiple voices are broadcast and juxtaposed through call-ins and dialogue, but free speech finds its ally in the radio elder who, by allowing people to be heard and supporting their claims, reminds authorities of their obligations toward the disaffected. Harri Englund provides a masterfully detailed study of this popular radio personality that addresses broad questions of free speech in Zambia and beyond. By drawing on ethnographic insights into political communication, Englund presents multivocal morality as an alternative to dominant Euro-American perspectives displacing the simplistic notion of voice as individual personal property, an idea common in both policy and activist rhetoric. Instead, Englund focuses on the creativity and polyphony of Zambian radio while raising important questions about hierarchy, elderhood, and ethics in the public sphere. A lively, engaging portrait of an extraordinary personality, Gogo Breeze will interest Africanists, scholars of radio and mass media, and anyone interested in the history and future of free speech. Beautiful Thoughts by Famous Authors, for Reading and Recitation ... Henry Troth Coates, 1906 Journal California.
