Labyrinths of the Mind Daniel R. White, Gert Hellerich, 1998-04-30 Labyrinths of the Mind critically engages and creatively transforms the patterns of postmodern culture It envisions strategies of self discovery emerging in our era as a labyrinth whose design evolves as we explore it Nietzsche serves as our guide throughout the book as we wander the shopping mall travel on an odyssey with Franz Kafka critically explore the disorders of psychiatry and psychotherapy attend a Nine Inch Nails concert during the Gulf War wake on a medical examination table and contemplate ourselves in the mirror of the biosphere

Interfaces of the Word Walter J. Ong, 2013-02-14 Drawing on a wide range of disciplines linguistics phenomenological analysis cultural anthropology media studies and intellectual history Walter J Ong offers a reasoned and sophisticated view of human consciousness different in many respects from that of structuralism The essays in Interfaces of the Word are grouped around the dialectically related themes of change or alienation and growth or integration Among the subjects Ong covers are the origins of speech in mother tongues the rise and final erosion of nonvernacular learned languages and the fictionalizing of audiences that is enforced by writing Other essays treat the idiom of African talking drums the ways new media interface with the old and the various connections between specific literary forms and shifts in media that register in the work of Shakespeare and Milton and in movements such as the New Criticism Ong also discusses the paradoxically nonliterary character of the Bible and the concerted blurring of fiction and actuality that marked much drama and narrative toward the close of the twentieth century

Claude Lévi-Strauss Christopher Johnson, 2003-02-27 L vi Strauss is one of the major intellectual figures of the twentieth century His theory of structuralism has been influential not only in anthropology but across the entire field of the humanities and social sciences This book looks at the formative period of his career from the 1940s to the early 1960s where he attempts to define both his own place in anthropology and the place of anthropology in the wider context of the human sciences in France Through a close reading of key texts Christopher Johnson provides an introduction to key aspects of L vi Strauss thought at the same time posing more general questions concerning the construction of theory and the different modes of conceptualization that inform theory Johnson looks at the ideological and autobiographical dimensions of L vi Strauss work and demonstrates how the impact of structuralism as an intellectual movement has clearly been greater than the sum of its theoretical parts Translations, an autoethnography Paul Carter, 2021-12-21 Translations is a personal history written at the intersection of colonial anthropology creative practice and migrant ethnography Renowned postcolonial scholar public artist and radio maker UK born Paul Carter documents and discusses a prodigiously varied and original trajectory of writing sound installation and public space dramaturgy produced in Australia to present the phenomenon of contemporary migration in an entirely new light Migrant space time Carter argues is not linear but turbulent vortical and opportunistic Before and after narratives fail to capture the work of self becoming and serve merely to perpetuate colonialist fantasies The mirror state relationship between England and Australia its structurally symmetrical histories of land theft and internal colonisation repress the appearance of new subjects and subject relations Reflecting on collaborations with Aboriginal artists Carter argues for a new definition of the stranger host relationship predicated on recognition of Aboriginal sovereignty Carter calls the creative practice that breaks the cycle of repeated invasion dirty art Translations is a passionately eloquent argument for reframing borders as crossing places framing less murderous exchange rates symbolic literacy creative courage and above all the emergence of a resilient migrant poetics will be essential representation and writing are related to Bataille's reconceptualization of the Hegelian framework Pefanis explores how Bataille was influenced by Hegel Marcel Mauss Freud and Nietzsche and traces the effects of this influence on the analyses and critiques of later postmodernists most notably Lyotard and Baudrillard Finally employing these postmodernists along with Freud and Jacques Lacan Pefanis discusses discourse on postmodernism and its relation to Freud's concept of the death drive This intellectual history makes valuable contributions to the debates over what the postmodern may mean for intellectual and political activity

The Human Science of Communicology Richard L. Lanigan, 1992 Communicology is the study of human discourse in all of its forms ranging from human gesture and speech to art and television Communicology also represents the dominant qualitative research paradigm in the discipline of human communication especially in the applied areas of mass communication philosophy of communication and speech communication Lanigan's work offers the bold and original thesis that Michel Foucault's thematic study of the discourse of desire and power is an elaboration of the problematic discourse explicated in Maurice Merleau-Ponty's interrogation of freedom and terror Various chapters cover such topics as art versus science culture and communication modernity versus postmodernity feminism versus humanism research methodology and the capta versus data distinction for research validity Actual examples of research cover the aesthetics of painting and sculpture radio and television rhetorical criticism of oral and written texts and the East West perspective on cross cultural encounter all using the approach of semiotic phenomenology Two special features of this book make it useful for both teacher and scholar alike First Lanigan provides an encyclopedic dictionary that illustrates and defines the theory and method of the human sciences in general and the discipline of communicology in particular Used for several years by teachers in a number of universities this dictionary had already become a classic among students before its publication here Second Lanigan analyzes and illustrates what has been missing for years in the study of Foucault's work a definition with appropriate illustrative figures and tables of Foucault's method of archaeology and genealogy criticism for research in the human sciences especially in the study of human discourse
