The Case Against Capital:

Postcapitalist Desire Mark Fisher, 2020-09-22 A collection of transcripts from Mark Fisher's final series of lectures at Goldsmiths University of London in late 2016 Edited with an introduction by Matt Colquhoun this collection of lecture notes and transcriptions reveals acclaimed writer and blogger Mark Fisher in his element the classroom outlining a project that Fisher's death left so bittersweetly unfinished Beginning with that most fundamental of questions Do we really want what we say we want Fisher explores the relationship between desire and capitalism and wonders what new forms of desire we might still excavate from the past present and future From the emergence and failure of the counterculture in the 1970s to the continued development of his left accelerationist line of thinking this volume charts a tragically interrupted course for thinking about the raising of a new kind of consciousness and the cultural and political implications of doing so For Fisher this process of consciousness raising was always fundamentally psychedelic just not in the way that we might think Social Non-conformity, 1919      When Things Don't Fall Apart Ilene Grabel, 2018-01-12 An account of the significant though gradual uneven disconnected ad hoc and pragmatic innovations in global financial governance and developmental finance induced by the global financial crisis In When Things Don't Fall Apart Ilene Grabel challenges the dominant view that the global financial crisis had little effect on global financial governance and developmental finance Most observers discount all but grand systemic ruptures in institutions and policy Grabel argues instead that the global crisis induced inconsistent and ad hoc discontinuities in global financial governance and developmental finance that are now having profound effects on emerging market and developing economies Grabel's chief normative claim is that the resulting incoherence in global financial governance is productive rather than debilitating In the age of productive incoherence a more complex dense fragmented and pluripolar form of global financial governance is expanding possibilities for policy and institutional experimentation policy space for economic and human development financial stability and resilience and financial inclusion Grabel draws on key theoretical commitments of Albert Hirschman to cement the case for the productivity of incoherence Inspired by Hirschman Grabel demonstrates that meaningful change often emerges from disconnected erratic experimental and inconsistent adjustments in institutions and policies as actors pragmatically manage in an evolving world Grabel substantiates her claims with empirically rich case studies that explore the effects of recent crises on networks of financial governance such as the G 20 transformations within the IMF institutional innovations in liquidity support and project finance from the national to the transregional levels and the rebranding of capital controls Grabel concludes with a careful examination of the opportunities and risks associated with the evolutionary transformations underway      Complete Accounting Course David Himmelblau, 1926      Congressional Record United States.
