Bose, 2010-04-29 Urban areas account for two thirds of global energy requirements while housing approximately half of the world s population With current projections indicating that 70 percent of the world s population will live in cities by 2050 an increase in urban energy use is inevitable In the face of this growing energy demand developing climate friendly urban energy solutions while protecting the urban development that is crucial to socioeconomic progress in developing countries is imperative In an effort to catalyze solutions that would delink high levels of carbon intensive energy use from urban growth the Energy Sector Management Assistance Program ESMAP of the World Bank launched the Energy Efficient Cities Initiative in October 2008 Energy Efficient Cities Assessment Tools and Benchmarking Practices is a product of that initiative The analytical tools and policy insights offered in this volume extend from integrated assessments of new cities to the impacts of socioeconomic climate and demographic changes on existing cities. In addition, the documentation and benchmarking of a variety of low carbon and carbon neutral good practices provide a range of practical insights on plausible energy efficient interventions in urban sectors. This book will be of particular interest to policy makers, development practitioners and decision makers in the private sector as well as researchers within nongovernmental organizations and the academic community.

Green Building Challenge '98, 1999 Foundations of Sustainable Business Nada R. Sanders, John D. Wood, 2024-01-17 An insightful and easy to follow introduction to the defining business sustainability issues of our generation. Describing sustainable business from the perspective of management, Nada R. Sanders and John D. Wood explain how and why increased consumer and regulatory pressure for sustainable performance is driving changes in core business functions, legal frameworks, metrics, reporting and more. Clear and accessible chapters offer comprehensive, well-balanced coverage of key concepts in social, economic and environmental sustainability, supported by original case studies, real world examples, practice quizzes and other learning tools. Now in its third edition, Foundations of Sustainable Business: Theory, Function and Strategy provides a thorough introduction to the social and environmental issues defining contemporary markets and societies. Designed to prepare aspiring business leaders to tackle urgent problems with a direct impact on their firms' bottom lines, this respected textbook employs a qualitative learning process that walks students through the application of sustainability concepts to leadership, finance, accounting, risk management, marketing, supply chain management and operations. Written by a business thought leader and a public interest policy expert, Foundations of Sustainable Business: Theory, Function and Strategy, Third Edition is an excellent primary or supplementary textbook for undergraduate and graduate courses in business administration, management and marketing. It is also an invaluable resource for business leaders looking for an intuitive and incisive introduction to sustainability concepts relevant to modern professionals, managers and executives.

Designing Sustainable Factories Lia Marchi, 2022-02-16 Economic constraints and lack of knowledge often prevent companies, especially small and medium enterprises, from harmonizing their facilities with the landscape. As a result, factories significantly impact the quality of our living environment in terms of physical effects on the ecosystem, perceptual interferences with the surroundings and disturbances on local communities. At both the design and maintenance stages, a set of appropriate tools can assist businesses in becoming more aware of their impacts and identifying possible mitigation strategies. The book presents an assessment tool and a library of inspiring design tactics for factories, with examples of the benefits and synergies for the environment, the scenery, the community and the company itself. The purpose is to elicit more than a simple reflection about what a sustainable factory entails. It is rather to encourage and assist both businesses and designers in mitigating the impact of industrial facilities on the landscape as holistically as possible.
