British Warships, 1860-1906 Nicholas Dingle, 2009-08-20 Illustrated with 200 official admiralty photographs many of them previously unpublished this book traces the development of Royal Naval ship design in a period of immense change Opening with the Crimean War this period saw the gradual transition from sail to steam and screw propulsion from wood to steel construction from fixed broadside armaments of bronze muzzle loaders to turret mounted steel breech loaders and torpedoes The period covered in this volume closes with the launch of HMS Dreadnought which overnight rendered all existing ships obsolete and signalled the start in earnest of the Anglo German naval arms race which contributed to the outbreak of WW1 Each photograph is accompanied by full specifications where available and a caption detailing any significant design features while the main text gives an overview of naval developments across the period under discussion setting the selected ships in context

Warship, 2008 Genesis of the Grand Fleet Christopher Buckey, 2021-05-15 Genesis of the Grand Fleet The Admiralty Germany and the Home Fleet 1896 1914 tells the story of the prewar predecessor to the Royal Navy's war winning Grand Fleet the Home Fleet Established in early 1907 by First Sea Lord Sir John Fisher the Home Fleet combined an active core of powerful armored warships with a unification of the various reserve divisions of warships previously under the control of the three Royal Navy home port commands Fisher boasted that the new Home Fleet would be able to counter the growing German Hochseeflotte While these boasts were accurate they were not the sole motivation behind the Home Fleet's establishment The Liberal Party's landslide victory in the 1906 General Election made fiscal economy on the part of the Admiralty even more important than before and this significantly influenced the Home Fleet's creation Subsequently the Home Fleet suffered a sustained campaign of criticism by the commander in chief of the Channel Fleet Lord Charles Beresford This campaign ruined many careers including Beresford's and resulted in the assimilation of the Channel Fleet into the Home Fleet in 1909 From 1910 onward the Home Fleet steadily evolved and became the most important single command in the Royal Navy and the Home Fleet's successive commanders in chief had influence on strategic policy rivaled only by the Board of Admiralty The last prewar commander of the Home Fleet Admiral Sir George Callaghan achieved this influence by impressing the civilian head of the Admiralty Winston Churchill A driven reformer Churchill's influence was almost as important as Fisher's Against this backdrop of political drama Genesis of the Grand Fleet The Admiralty Germany and the Home Fleet 1896 1914 explains how Britain maintained its maritime preeminence in the early twentieth century As Christopher Buckey describes the fleet sustained Britain and her allies path to victory in World War I

21st Century Chinese Cyberwarfare William Hagestad II, 2012-03-05 21st Century Chinese Cyberwarfare draws from a combination of business cultural historical and linguistic sources as well as the author's personal experience to attempt to explain China to the uninitiated The objective of the book is to present the salient information regarding the use of cyber warfare doctrine by the People's Republic of China to promote its own interests and enforce its political military and economic will on other nation states The threat of Chinese Cyberwarfare can no longer be ignored It is a clear and present danger to the experienced and innocent alike and will be economically societally and culturally changing and damaging for the nations that are targeted
