Shukat, Angela Haines, 1986 Crying Baby, Sleepless Nights Sandy Jones, 1992 Why your baby is crying and what you can do about it Infant Crying C.F.Z. Boukydis, B.M. Lester, 2012-12-06 The cries of infants and children are familiar to essentially all adults and we all have our own common sense notions of the meanings of various cries at each age level As is often the case in the study of various aspects of human behavior we often investigate what seems self evident to the general public For example if an infant cries he or she needs attention if the cry is different than usual he or she is sick and when we are upset by other matters children's crying can be very annoying As a pediatric clinician often faced with discussing with parents their concerns or lack of them with respect to their children's crying these usual commonsense interpretations were frequently inadequate As this book illustrates when we investigate such everyday behaviors as children's crying and adults responses to crying the nature of the problem becomes surprisingly complex As a pediatrician working in the newborn nursery early in my career I knew from pediatric textbooks and from nursery nurses that newborn infants with high piercing cries were often abnormal In order to teach this interesting phenomenon to others and to understand under what circumstances it occurred I found I needed to know what constituted a high pitched cry or even a normal cry for that matter and how often this occurred with sick infants Certainly I saw sick infants who did not have high pitched cries but I still wondered if their cries were deviant in some other way

Children ,1929 Why Only Humans Weep Ad Vingerhoets,2013-02-28 Crying has fascinated mankind for millennia Since ancient times we have known that emotional tears are a unique human characteristic Unsurprisingly over hundreds of years scholars from different backgrounds have speculated about the origin and functions of human tears According to Charles Darwin tears fulfilled no adaptive function And yet this seems in sharp contrast to statements in the popular media about the significance of crying Crying is thought to bring relief and is considered healthy and withholding tears unhealthy In addition tears have been said to inhibit aggression in assaulters and to promote social bonding Perhaps that could explain why tears have been so important in our evolution Ad Vingerhoets is one of the few scientists in the world to have studied crying He examines in Why only humans weep which claims about crying are scientifically tenable which are fact and which are fiction Though a psychologist he doesn't just restrict himself to the current psychological literature but also explores work in evolutionary biology neurosciences theology art history and anthropology to provide an integrated perspective on this complex phenomenon Written throughout in an academically accessible style this book is groundbreaking in contributing to a modern scientific understanding of crying It will have broad appeal to psychologists psychiatrists philosophers biologists and anthropologists
