Strange Relation:

The Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang John Christopher Hamm, 2019-08-27 Xiang Kairan who wrote under the pen name the Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang is remembered as the father of modern Chinese martial arts fiction one of the most distinctive forms of twentieth century Chinese culture and the inspiration for China's globally popular martial arts cinema In this book John Christopher Hamm shows how Xiang Kairan's work and career offer a new lens on the transformations of fiction and popular culture in early twentieth century China The Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang situates Xiang Kairan's career in the larger contexts of Republican era China's publishing industry literary debates and political and social history At a time when writers associated with the New Culture movement promoted an aggressively modernizing vision of literature Xiang Kairan consciously cultivated his debt to homegrown narrative traditions Through careful readings of Xiang Kairan's work Hamm demonstrates that his writings far from being the formally fossilized and ideologically regressive relics their critics denounced represent a creative engagement with contemporary social and political currents and the demands and possibilities of an emerging cultural marketplace Hamm takes martial arts fiction beyond the confines of genre studies to situate it within a broader reexamination of Chinese literary modernity The first monograph on Xiang Kairan's fiction in any language The Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang rewrites the history of early twentieth century Chinese literature from the standpoints of genre fiction and commercial publishing

Elder Care in Crisis Emily K. Abel, 2022-10-25 Explains why there is a crisis in caring for elderly people and how the COVID 19 pandemic exacerbated it Because government policies are based on an ethic of family responsibility repeated calls to support family members caring for the burgeoning elderly population have gone unanswered Without publicly funded long term care services many family caregivers cannot find relief from obligations that threaten to overwhelm them The crisis also stems from the plight of direct care workers nursing home assistants and home health aides most of whom are women from racially marginalized groups who receive little respect remuneration or job security Drawing on an online support group for people caring for spouses and partners with dementia Elder Care in Crisis examines the availability and quality of respite care which provides temporary relief from the burdens of care the long tortuous process through which family members decide whether to move spouses and partners to institutions and the likelihood that caregivers will engage in political action to demand greater public support When the pandemic began caregivers watched in horror as nursing homes turned into deathtraps and then locked their doors to visitors Terrified by the possibility of loved ones in nursing homes contracting the disease or suffering from loneliness some caregivers brought them home Others endured the pain of leaving relatives with severe cognitive impairments at the hospital door and the difficulties of sheltering in place with people with dementia who could not understand safety regulations or describe their symptoms Direct care workers were compelled to accept unsafe conditions or leave the labor force At the same time however the disaster provided an impetus for change and helped activists and scholars develop a vision of a future in which care is central to social life Elder Care in Crisis exposes the harrowing state of growing old in America offering concrete solutions and illustrating why they are necessary
