Warship 2001 2002:

Warship Antony Preston, John Jordan, Stephen Dent, 2007-05 Annual publication focusing on the design development and service history of the world's combat ships British Warships, 1860-1906 Nicholas Dingle, 2009-08-20 Illustrated with 200 official admiralty photographs many of them previously unpublished this book traces the development of Royal Naval ship design in a period of immense change Opening with the Crimean War this period saw the gradual transition from sail to steam and screw propulsion from wood to steel construction from fixed broadside armaments of bronze muzzle loaders to turret mounted steel breech loaders and torpedoes The period covered in this volume closes with the launch of HMS Dreadnought which overnight rendered all existing ships obsolete and signalled the start in earnest of the Anglo German naval arms race which contributed to the outbreak of WW1 Each photograph is accompanied by full specifications where available and a caption detailing any significant design features while the main text gives an overview of naval developments across the period under discussion setting the selected ships in context Warship 2018 John Jordan, 2018-05-31 An annual publication featuring the latest research on the history development and service of the world's warships Warship 2018 is devoted to the design development and service history of the world's combat ships Featuring a broad range of articles from a select panel of distinguished international contributors this latest volume combines original research new book reviews warship notes an image gallery and much more to maintain the impressive standards of scholarship and research from the field of warship history This 40th edition features the usual range of diverse articles spanning the subject by an international array of expert authors Warship, 2008 The World's Worst Warships Antony Preston, 2002 Antony Preston provides a history of steel navy mistakes beginning in the 1860s when steam propulsion turret mechanisms and armoured hulls were all in their infancy and ships of questionable seaworthiness such as the USS Monitor were built and sank Russian & Soviet Battleships Stephen McLaughlin, 2003 Covering the period 1869-1960 this volume provides an overview of Russian and Soviet battleships It describes the design histories technical innovations characteristics and service histories of 40 naval vessels Approximately 100 drawings and design studies illustrate the details of the ships The Laird Rams Andrew R. English, 2021-10-01 Built in Birkenhead England from 1862 to 1865 the Laird rams were two innovative armored warships intended for service with the Confederate Navy during the Civil War The vessels represented a substantial threat to Union naval power and offered the Confederacy a potential means to break the Union blockade of the Southern coastline During 1863 the critical year of the Confederacy's last hope of recognition by the British and French President Lincoln threatened war with Britain if the ships ever sailed under Confederate colors Built in some secrecy then launched on the River Mersey under intense international scrutiny the ships were first seized and then purchased by Britain to avoid a war with the United States These armored warships were largely forgotten after the Admiralty acquired them Historians rarely mention these sister warships if referred at all they are given short shrift This book provides the first complete history
