World Chess Championship:

Topalov-Kramnik 2006 World Chess Championship First Last, Veselin Topalov, Zhivko Ginchev, 2015-02-25 This is Veselin Topalov's very personal account of his 2006 world championship match against the reigning world champion Vladimir Kramnik. With the help of co-author Zhivko Ginchev, Topalov shares his thoughts, hopes, and fears as he fought for the most prestigious title in the chess world. The Russian World Champion Vladimir Kramnik had defeated the seemingly invincible Kasparov to take the title in 2000; the brilliant Bulgarian Challenger Veselin Topalov was ranked No. 1 in the world. Not since Bobby Fischer had faced Boris Spassky in Reykjavik in 1972 had the chess world seen such a tumultuous, controversial title bout. The match had it all: deep positional play, razor-sharp tactics, accusations of questionable behavior, and even a forfeited game.

The Big Book of World Chess Championships Andre Schulz, 2016-05-11 Wilhelm Steinitz, the winner of the first official World Chess Championship in 1886, would have rubbed his eyes in disbelief if he could have seen how popular chess is today. With millions of players all around the world, live internet transmissions of major and minor competitions, and educational programs in thousands of schools, chess has truly become a global passion. And what would Steinitz, who had financial problems his whole life and died in poverty, have thought of the current world champion Magnus Carlsen, who became a multi-millionaire in his early twenties just by playing great chess? The history of the World Chess Championship reflects these enormous changes, and German chess journalist Andre Schulz tells the stories of the title fights in fascinating detail: the historical and social backgrounds, the prize money, the seconds, and other helpers, and the psychological wars on and off the board. Meet some of the world's sharpest minds as they clash in what has been called the cruellest sport and drink in their tales: the lonely geniuses, the flamboyant boulevardiers, the Nazi sympathizers, the communist darlings, and a troubled boy from Brooklyn. Relive the magic of Capablanca, Alekhine, Botvinnik, Tal, Karpov, Kasparov, Bobby Fischer, and the others. All great champions, but so different in character and playing style. Schulz's chronicle is an absorbing evocation of the battles they fought. He has also selected one defining game from each championship, and he explains the moves of the Champions and the ideas behind the moves in a way that is easily accessible for amateur players and highly instructive for beginners as well. This is a book that no true chess lover wants to miss.

World Chess Championship 1937 Alexander Alekhine, Max Euwe, 1993 Undoubtedly one of the greatest chess players of all time, Alexander Alekhine's play has influenced generations of players, including that of the current World Champion Gary Kasparov. In 1937, Alekhine faced one of the most difficult matches of his career to recover the title of World Champion from the Dutchman Max Euwe, to whom he surprisingly lost it two years before. This is Alekhine's own account of that match, with game annotations from both combatants.

Championship Candidates' Tournament - Budapest 1950 E. G. R. Cordingley, 2006-04 The World Championship Candidates Tournament of 1950 marked a fresh phase in the history of the world title. Hitherto the champion had chosen his challenger of course bearing in mind such pressures as public opinion and prize purses on offer. Now after the interregnum caused by the death of Alekhine as incumbent in 1946 FIDE the World Chess Federation instituted a regular series of qualifying events to determine the rightful challenger to the chess throne. Budapest 1950 was to be Bronstein's finest hour coming from behind he caught his imperturbable compatriot Boleslavsky at the finishing post and then squeezed ahead of him in the play off. The notes to this great event which also featured such immortals as Smyslov, Keres and Najdorf are by the British publishing pioneer Cordingley while the comments to the tie breaking match are furnished by the world champion of chess journalists Grandmaster emeritus Harry Golombek OBE based on his insights for the British Chess Magazine. As we know Bronstein advanced to challenge Botvinnik for the world title but faltered at the final hurdle. That epic clash is covered in the companion Hardinge Simpole volume World Chess Championship 1951 by William Winter and R G Wade ISBN 1843820846. This mighty clash between the top two Soviet Grandmasters was Botvinnik's first title defence after becoming World Champion in 1948. Amazingly the man who had dominated Soviet and World chess was only able to defend his title by the skin of his teeth after a most ferocious and determined onslaught from his youthful challenger David Bronstein. The controversial 23rd game where a demoralised Bronstein may have resigned prematurely was the key to Botvinnik's ultimate success. This book was written by two expert eye witnesses former British Champion and International Master William Winter and Bob Wade International Master vice president of FIDE the World Chess Federation and later to be awarded the OBE for services to chess and chess education. Together these two acknowledged experts of the game give a thrilling first hand account of the intense intellectual drama of one of the most evenly fought battles in chess history. East Meets East: Inside The 2024 World Chess Championship In Singapore Olimpiu G Urca, 2025-06-18 This book presents a compelling account of the historic FIDE world chess championship match between Ding Liren of China and Gukesh Dommaraju of India held in Singapore from November 25 to December 13 2024. Botvinnik versus Smyslov and Petrosian Mikhail Botvinnik, 2023-08-29 The writings of Mikhail Moiseevich Botvinnik 1911-1995 are legendary And Botvinnik's legacy is deeply imprinted in the DNA of every grandmaster today says Andy Soltis in his foreword to this book The Patriarch took professionalism in chess to a new level and was the first to emphasize preparation what a player does before a game plays an enormous if not decisive role in what happens during a game In this book Botvinnik writes the story of the three clashes with his compatriot Vasily Smyslov matches full of tension between two virtually equal opponents and his match with Tigran Petrosian which marks the end of an era the mighty Botvinnik lost his world title fifteen years after he conquered the highest crown for the first time The first part of this book gives Botvinnik's view of three World Championship matches and how he prepared for them The matches were as great a clash of personalities as in any world championship as much as Karpov versus Kasparov While Botvinnik played the role of a stern father Smyslov was like the smiling easy going uncle Botvinnik was proud of what he called his hard character Smyslov seemed to get along with everyone His attitude was to try to do his best and let fate decide The last part of the book is the gripping account of a heroic battle The ageing Botvinnik desperately tries to bounce back after his Armenian opponent Tigran Petrosian has taken an early lead but ultimately The Patriarch fails Mikhail Botvinnik one of the greatest chess players of all time analyses many of the games reveals his match strategy and comments on the strategic choices of his opponent This important historical document also features annotations and writings by Smyslov Petrosian and other top grandmasters the games of a secret training match by Botvinnik and Botvinnik's legendary notebooks including the final one containing his preparation for a match with Bobby Fischer in 1969 a match that was never to be
