Opportunities and Challenges for Women Leaders in Environmental Management Aquino, Jr., Perfecto Gatbonton, Jalagat, Jr., Revenio Cabanilla, Justin, Mercia Selva Malar, 2023-11-24 Our planet is facing the prospect of environmental catastrophe resulting from decades of reckless human activities The ongoing degradation of the Earth's natural resources climate change pollution and habitat destruction have created an urgent global crisis The responsibility for addressing these challenges has been a significant issue since the 1972 International Conference on Human Environment in Sweden Despite widespread acknowledgment of the issues at hand insufficient efforts have been taken to safeguard our fragile ecosystems and secure a sustainable future for generations to come Opportunities and Challenges for Women Leaders in Environmental Management is a groundbreaking book meticulously crafted for academic scholars seeking answers to the most pressing environmental questions of our time This book reveals the pivotal role women are playing as environmental stewards providing a ray of hope in the face of environmental turmoil Through data empirical studies and narratives this book spotlights the remarkable contributions of women worldwide in environmental activism advocacy research education and innovative strategies Their unwavering commitment to energy conservation responsible waste management and the preservation of ecological parks and wildlife is both inspiring and transformative

Socio-Environmental Crisis in Women's Novels and Films in The Americas Victoria Jara, 2025-03-31 The climate crisis has reached a critical point necessitating urgent global action Women's activism against environmental dispossession in the Americas manifests not only in protests and classrooms but also through artistic filmmaking and writing This book focuses on the overlooked contributions of women filmmakers and novelists highlighting how their work reveals the connections between environmental dispossession and various injustices related to gender ethnicity age class and labor It demonstrates that contemporary women in the Americas engage deeply with ecological issues analyzing their representations and identifying common principles across texts Using an interdisciplinary approach from environmental humanities gender and Indigenous studies and film and literary studies the author compares works from Canada and Latin America Three poetics emerge environmental destruction critiques harmful development care expands notions of reciprocity beyond the human and insurgency showcases struggles against extractivist models These works invite readers to understand the complex interconnections of environmental justice within society Women and Economics Charlotte Perkins Gilman,1898 This classic of feminist theory relates the evolution of women s economic reliance on men and the system s deleterious effects on both sexes A landmark treatise in the struggle for gender equality School & Society James McKeen Cattell,Will Carson Ryan,Raymond Walters,1917 The American Journal of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children ,1889 The Essential Lectures of Charlotte Perkins Gilman, 1890-1894 Charlotte Perkins Gilman,2024-07-16 The first collection of lectures and sermons that Charlotte Perkins Gilman delivered in the first four years of her career The Young Woman's Journal ,1918 Woman Anthony Mario Ludovici,1923 Disability and the Environment in American Literature Matthew J. C. Cella,2016-10-12 This book includes a collection of essays that explore the relationship between Disability Studies and literary ecocriticism particularly as this relationship plays out in American literature and culture The contributors to this collection operate from the premise that there is much to be gained for both fields by putting them in conversation and they do so in a variety of ways In this manner the collection contributes to what Joni Adamson and Scott Slovic have referred to as a third wave of ecocriticism Adamson and Slovic attribute the rise of this third wave to the richly diverse contributions to ecocriticism over the past decade by scholars intent on including postmodernism ecofeminism transnationalism globalization and postcolonialism into ecocritical discussions The essays in Toward an Ecosomatic Paradigm extend this approach of this third wave by analyzing disability from an environmental point of view while simultaneously examining the environmental imagination from a disability studies perspective More specifically the goal of the collection is to investigate the role that literary narratives play in fostering the ecosomatic paradigm As a theoretical framework the ecosomatic paradigm underscores the dynamic and inter relational process wherein human mind bodies interact with the places both built and wild they inhabit That is the ecosomatic paradigm proceeds from the assumption that nature and culture are meshed in an ongoing and deep relationship that has implications for both the human subject and the natural world An ecosomatic approach highlights the profound overlap between embodiment and emplacement and is therefore enriched by both disability studies and ecocritical insight By drawing on points of confluence between disability studies and ecological criticism the various ecosomatic readings in this collection challenge normative even ableist constructions of the body environment dyad by complicating and expanding our understanding of this relationship as it is represented in American literature and culture Collectively the essays in this book augment the American environmental imagination by highlighting the relationship between disability and the environment as reflected in American
