

Women

Foreign Policy & National Security

Despite the progress of the last few decades, the world's female population remains grossly underrepresented in politics, foreign policy, and national security.

In 2000, the UN Security Council adopted Resolution 1325, reaffirming the important role of women in the prevention and resolution of conflicts, peace negotiations, peace-building, post-conflict reconstruction and disaster relief, and emphasizing the importance of their equal participation and full involvement in all efforts for the maintenance and promotion of peace and security. Resolution 1325 urges all actors to increase the participation of women and incorporate gender perspectives in all United Nations peace and security efforts.
