Stranger To Innocence:

Fiction in the Quantum Universe Susan Strehle,2000-11-09 In this outstanding book Susan Strehle argues that a new fiction has developed from the influence of modern physics She calls this new fiction actualism and within that framework she offers a critical analysis of major novels by Thomas Pynchon Robert Coover William Gaddis John Barth Margaret Atwood and Donald Barthelme According to Strehle the actualists balance attention to questions of art with an engaged meditation on the external actual world While these actualist novels diverge markedly from realistic practice Strehle claims that they do so in order to reflect more acutely what we now understand as real Reality is no longer realistic in the new physical or quantum universe reality is discontinuous energetic relative statistical subjectively seen and uncertainly known all terms taken from new physics Actualist fiction is characterized by incompleteness indeterminacy and open endings unsatisfying to the readerly wish for fulfilled promises and completed patterns Gravity's Rainbow for example ends not with a period but with a dash Strehle argues that such innovations in narrative reflect on twentieth century history politics science and discourse

Commentaries on the Law of Marriage and Divorce Bishop,1881 A History of the Scottish People from the Earliest Times Thomas Thomson,1893 The Lammas Feast Kate Sedley,2013-02-01 July 1478 and business is good for Bristol's bakers during the lead up to Lammastide Loaf mass the ancient harvest festival But the shady Jasper Fairbrother's baking days are over when he's found face down with a knife in his back Suspicion immediately falls on the mysterious Breton who'd arrived that day and had been seen having an argument with Fairbrother But when it emerges that the Breton is also a suspected Lancastrian spy Roger the Chapman wonders if suspicion of murder is merely a convenient pretext for the authorities to hunt down the Breton True there is no reason for Roger to take an interest in the case and should he when he ought to be peddling his wares to provide for his new baby boy But his curiosity and sense of justice is piqued and before he finds out who murdered the baker he is to become more than a little personally involved as some of the things nearest and dearest to his heart come under threat Sedley offers an absorbing view of 15th century English society and politics along with an intricate plot to keep readers guessing Exceptionally well written and wonderfully entertaining A fine addition for all mystery collections

Sickness Work Gerhard Nijhof, 2018-05-08 This is the story of a professor of Medical Sociology diagnosed with colon cancer. He undergoes the appropriate medical treatment. Passing through that trajectory, he realizes that things happen that he never read about in the professional literature. During his illness and rehabilitation, he scribbles down notes about what is happening to him, what he is observing, and what things do not tally with his knowledge of the sociological literature. This continuous connection of personal experience with academic literature is what makes this book such a powerful account of the everyday life of a sick person. Recommended to teachers and students in the field of social health research, to everyone who works in health care professionals as well as volunteers, and to men and women who themselves are experiencing a serious illness. Philosophical Foundations of the African Humanities through Postcolonial Perspectives, 2019-03-19

Philosophical Foundations of the African Humanities through Postcolonial Perspectives critiques recent claims that the humanities, especially in public universities in poor countries, have lost their significance, defining missions, methods, and standards due to the pressure to justify their existence. The predominant responses to these claims have been that the humanities are relevant for creating a world culture to address the world's problems. This book argues that behind such arguments lies a false neutrality constructed to deny the values intrinsic to marginalized cultures and peoples and to justify their perceived inferiority. These essays by scholars in postcolonial studies critique these false claims about the humanities through critical analyses of alterity, difference, and how the Other is perceived, defined, and subdued. Contributors: Gordon S K Adika, Kofi N Awoonor, E John Collins, Kari Dako, Mary Esther Kropp, Dakubu James Gibbs, Helen Lauer, Bernth Lindfors, J H Kwabena Nketia, Abena Oduro, Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak, Ol f mi T w Alexis B Tengan, Kwasi Wiredu, Francis Nii Yartey.

Call No Man Master Joyce Collin-Smith, 2004-03 This is the fascinating story of a woman's life and spiritual search that touches on all the great esoteric moments of the last century: Gurdjieff, Ouspensky, her brother-in-law Rodney Collin, and other spiritual supermen. Inspired by Joyce Collin Smith's imagination from a young age, she literally sat at the feet of many such masters and esoteric teachers. Learning from the Other Sharon Todd, 2012-02-01 Learning from the Other presents a philosophical investigation into the ethical possibilities of education, especially social justice education. In this original treatment, Sharon Todd rethinks the ethical basis of responsibility as emerging out of the everyday and complex ways we engage difference within educational settings. She works through the implications of the productive tension between the thought of Emmanuel Levinas and that of Sigmund Freud, Melanie Klein, Judith Butler, Cornelius Castoriadis, and others.

Challenging the idea that knowledge about the other is the answer to questions of responsibility, she proposes that responsibility is rooted instead in a learning from the other. The author focuses on empathy, love, guilt, and listening to highlight the complex nature of learning from difference and to probe where the conditions for ethical possibility might lie.
