Experiencing the Postmetaphysical Self Fionola Meredith,2004-12-14 This book charts and challenges the bruising impact of post Saussurean thought on the categories of experience and self presence It attempts a reappropriation of the category of lived experience in dialogue with poststructuralist thinking Following the insight that mediated subjectivity need not mean alienated selfhood Meredith forwards a postmetaphysical model of the experiential based on the interpenetration of poststructuralist thinking and hermeneutic phenomenology Since poststructuralist approaches in feminist theory have often placed women s lived experiences under erasure Meredith uses this hermeneutic deconstructive model to attempt a rehabilitation of the singular flesh and blood female existent
Sport and the Female Disabled Body Elisabet Apelmo,2016-10-04 This path breaking book analyses the experiences of young sporting women with physical impairments Taking phenomenology as a point of departure Elisabet Apelmo explores how the young women handle living with a body which on the one hand is viewed as deviant the disabled body and on the other hand is viewed as accomplished the sporting body A polarization is apparent between the weak which is manifested through the expression of belonging as we and the strong individual The subject position as strong positive and capable as a reaction towards the weak the negative is one of the few positions that are available to them Furthermore the book demonstrates the strategies of resistance the young women develop against the marginalisation stereotyping and othering they experience in their everyday lives Finally the author discusses the paradox of gender Disabled bodies are often seen as non gendered however these young women s experiences are structured by both the gender regimes within sports and the larger gender order of the society Blogosphere Michael Keren,2006-01-01 Examining the web logs or blogs of individuals from a variety of continents and cultures this book highlights the nature of blogosphere the virtual public arena of the early 21st century which alters the traditional world of media and politics It characterizes this new arena by the unique combination of a fresh voice of emancipation and a deep sense of melancholy and isolationism This journey through blogosphere highlights major forces operating in today s politics apathy toward political affairs resistance to globalization a quest for redemption through religious fundamentalism and terrorism Michael Keren compares bloggers to terrorists arguing that while the methods advocated by the two groups are obviously very different they both represent a similar trend one of diversion by respected but disenchanting citizens from the norms of civil society to a fantasy world in which the excessive use of words_or bombs_would make everybody listen Body Art/performing the Subject Amelia Jones,1998 With great originality and scholarship Amelia Jones maps out an extraordinary history of body art over the last three decades and embeds it in the theoretical terrain of postmoderism The result is a wonderful and permissive space in which the viewer can wander Moira Roth Trefethen professor of art history Mills College The Intimate Empire Gillian Whitlock,2000 The Intimate Empire explores the interconnections between race gender autobiography and colonialism and uses a method of reading which looks for connections between very different autobiographical writings

The Body/mind Conceptual Framework & the Problem of Personal Identity Albert Shalom,1989 Bridging Differences: Understanding Cultural Interaction in Our Globalized World Newtona (Tina) Johnson,Shawn Simpson,2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2016 Cultural interaction in our worlds today is essential to building 21st century bridges between communities The experiences and lessons learned from the authors of the articles herein are shared with empathy and humility across many disciplines The creation and re creation of individual identities and group identities due to migrations throughout history is an ongoing story Never does one cultural profile remain constant On the contrary as boundaries change so do people and therefore cultures Interculturalism is the one valid approach to understanding these changes but should be used with great sensitivity And sensitivity is the over riding emotion emanating from the different studies in this volume the search for one s identity when the latter has been lost or has become difficult to recognize the attempts to erase identities so as to conform to national unity the will to create new identities to fit in with new environments the need to re evaluate oneself so as to remain true to oneself These endeavors are subtly described in this vibrant compendium of intercultural monographies Naming Security - Constructing Identity Maria Stern,2005 Based on the experiences of Mayan women Stern critically re considers the connections between security subjectivity and identity By engaging in a careful reading of how Mayan women speak security in relation to the different contexts that inform their lives she explores the multiplicity of both identity and security and questions the main story of security imbedded in the modern paradox of sovereignty The Encumbered and Unencumbered Identity Anjum D. Alden,1997 The Wounded Body Dennis Patrick Slattery,2000 Explores the wounded body in literature from Homer to Toni Morrison examining how it functions archetypally as both a cultural metaphor and a poetic image Female Diasporic Identity Formation. A Reading of Buchi Emecheta's Afro-British Texts Hind Essafir,2021-09-13 Academic Paper from the year 2019 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature language English abstract Over the span of three centuries the Afro British tradition has managed to establish itself as a distinguished voice in Britain s literary and cultural scene While unearthing its first attempts at self definition this dissertation first engages with the slave tradition in the particular context of Eighteenth century Enlightenment England and explores how its emergence initiated the re inscription of the black race within humankind after years of exclusion By adopting a feminist and cultural perspective this essay spotlights the female contribution it equally examines the extent to which the double discrimination of race and gender further complicates the female identity formation project Significantly Second Class Citizen In The Ditch and Head Above Water stand as typical Afro British texts that strongly resonate with earlier voices of the tradition while promoting strategies of resistance and ultimately disturbing constructions of womanhood and female subjectivity Through these narratives Buchi Emecheta inscribes herself as a true heiress of an Afro British female textuality inaugurated two centuries earlier by a pioneering figure as prestigious as Mary Prince In its effort to uncover the identity politics informing this literary and discursive body this study lays emphasis on the significance of generic choice to the Afro British female self telling via autobiography while placing it within the much wider project of nation telling

Women's Autobiographies, Culture, Feminism Kristi Siegel, 1999 Using an approach that links feminist psychoanalytic and cultural theory Dr Siegel examines how the figure of the mother becomes a site of textual turbulence in women s autobiography as well as an underexamined metaphor in modern culture and feminism Women s Autobiographies Culture Feminism analyzes writings from a wide array of authors including Simone de Beauvoir Nathalie Sarraute Annie Dillard Maya Angelou Zora Neale Hurston Erna Bombeck Betty MacDonald Maxine Hong Kingston Alta Nancy Mairs Anne Rolphe Luce Irigaray Julia Kristeva and Hélène Cixous

Psychological Gender and Modernity Harriet Bjerrum Nielsen, Monica Rudberg, 1994 The aim of this book is to describe the psychological story of gender in contemporary civilization How is gender identity constructed through our socialization at different stages And what happens to gender identity in a society where traditional sex roles seem to evaporate When the question of gender in modern society is debated one often gets the impression of no change at all on the one hand or total disintegration on the other The authors examine the often confusing story of gender and change from different perspectives developmental psychology historical modernity and youth culture A tentative conclusion is that the set of problems connected with femininity today seems to be different for young girls Femininity and individuality seem no longer to be a contradiction in terms as they often were in older generations On the contrary to explore and test one s gender becomes an aspect of exploring one s individuality and the right to be one s gender becomes part of the more encompassing modern right to be a unique individual This work will interest developmental and educational psychologists as well as students of youth culture feminist studies and sociology
