

The Ultimate Measures of Health

Existing public health programs have been designed to address the most common and preventable causes of death, including tobacco use, alcohol consumption, and obesity. While these programs have been successful in reducing the burden of these diseases, they have not addressed the more complex and chronic conditions that are the leading causes of death and disability. This article examines the challenges of addressing these conditions and the potential role of public health programs in addressing these challenges.

Marcoulides, 2011-01-07 This new text provides a state of the art introduction to educational and psychological testing and measurement theory that reflects many intellectual developments of the past two decades The book introduces psychometric theory using a latent variable modeling LVM framework and emphasizes interval estimation throughout so as to better prepare readers for studying more advanced topics later in their careers Featuring numerous examples it presents an applied approach to conducting testing and measurement in the behavioral social and educational sciences Readers will find numerous tips on how to use test theory in today s actual testing situations To reflect the growing use of statistical software in psychometrics the authors introduce the use of Mplus after the first few chapters IBM SPSS SAS and R are also featured in several chapters Software codes and associated outputs are reviewed throughout to enhance comprehension Essentially all of the data used in the book are available on the website In addition instructors will find helpful PowerPoint lecture slides and questions and problems for each chapter The authors rely on LVM when discussing fundamental concepts such as exploratory and confirmatory factor analysis test theory generalizability theory reliability and validity interval estimation nonlinear factor analysis generalized linear modeling and item response theory The varied applications make this book a valuable tool for those in the behavioral social educational and biomedical disciplines as well as in business economics and marketing A brief introduction to R is also provided Intended as a text for advanced undergraduate and or graduate courses in psychometrics testing and measurement measurement theory psychological testing and or educational and or psychological measurement taught in departments of psychology education human development epidemiology business and marketing it will also appeal to researchers in these disciplines Prerequisites include an introduction to statistics with exposure to regression analysis and ANOVA Familiarity with SPSS SAS STATA or R is also beneficial As a whole the book provides an invaluable introduction to measurement and test theory to those with limited or no familiarity with the mathematical and statistical procedures involved in measurement and testing

Assessment for Excellence Alexander W. Astin, Anthony Lising Antonio, 2012-07-13 The second edition of Assessment for Excellence arrives as higher education enters a new era of the accountability movement In the face of mandates such as results based funding and outcomes based accreditation institutions and assessment specialists are feeling increasingly pressured to demonstrate accountability to external constituencies The practice of assessment under these new accountability pressures takes on special significance for the education of students and the development of talent across the entire higher education system This book introduces a talent development approach to educational assessment as a counter to prevailing philosophies illustrating how contemporary practices are unable to provide institutions with meaningful data with which to improve educational outcomes It provides administrators policymakers researchers and analysts with a comprehensive framework for developing new assessment programs to promote talent development and for scrutinizing existing policies and practices Written for a wide audience the book enables the lay reader to quickly grasp the imperatives of a properly designed assessment program and also to gain adequate statistical understanding necessary for examining current or planned assessment policies More advanced readers will appreciate the technical appendix for assistance in conducting statistical analyses that align with a talent development approach In addition institutional researchers will benefit from sections that outline the development of appropriate student databases

Time and Meaning in History Nathan Rotenstreich, 2012-12-06 There are several characteristics of Nathan Rotenstreich's work which are striking his thoughtful writings are both subtle and deep they are steeped in his critical appreciation of other thinkers of this and preceding times an appreciation which is formed by his learned understanding of the history of philosophy and with all this he has an original and independent intelligence He has from time to time brought his skills to bear upon historical scholarship most notably perhaps in his book Between Past and Present 1958 2nd edition 1973 his interpretive essays in the philosophy of history Philosophy History and Politics 1976 and his scholarly work concerned with the influence of historical development upon modern Jewish thought Tradition and Reality 1972 Related to these and equally works of that philosophical humanity which Professor Rotenstreich embodies are his Humanism in the Contemporary Era 1963 Spirit and Man An Essay on Being and Value 1963 and Reflection and Action 1983 Rotenstreich combines both the naturalistic and the phenomenological attitudes in an interesting and illuminating way through the full spectrum of issues in the philosophy of history in this century Surely he sets boundaries to any doubtful extrapolation Not only would he bring the understanding of history back from those who claim it as only a positive science but equally would he prevent the transformation of that understanding into merely speculative inquiry

Dynamic Supply Chain Alignment John Gattorna, 2016-04-29 Just like the world financial system but for different reasons 21st century corporations need a new business model for their enterprise supply chains The old conventions no longer work in this new world of volatile and increasingly unpredictable demand and supply The enterprise needs to become more connected to its own parts as well as its partners up and down the chains it participates in So too we need to embrace new ways of looking at customers to gain deeper more insightful impressions of what they are telling us about the way they want to buy our products and services Finally these signals need converting into corresponding action driven by the people in the business leaders and staff alike who are aligned to their customers wishes This is the world of dynamic supply chain alignment where increasingly supply chains are the business In the follow up to his hugely successful Strategic Supply Chain Alignment John Gattorna's Dynamic Supply Chain Alignment explores how to create and sustain multiple supply chains with a level of flexibility and responsiveness that allow you to respond to opportunities and threats at the same time aligning with your suppliers your partners and your customers When more executives get to this stage of development the profits will flow more readily and sustainability of performance will not be the same issue it is today The way forward is right there in front of us but says John Gattorna we must throw off old ways and embrace the new Fiscal Equalization Jorge Martinez-Vazquez, Bob Searle, 2007-05-16 Each endogenous variable in the model is a function of the exogenous For later discussion it is useful to explore this in variables and parameters more detail for one of the endogenous variables for example the grant to State i In this regard one can define from 6 the per capita grant to a State as where F s N is a vector of variables determined by the federal government P p p is a vector of the local public good prices CGC I p_i c is a vector of variables determined by the CGC and S l q q is the strategy set of the two States Within F the variable s is determined by the federal government The total federal population N is determined by things such as the birth and death rate but also by international migration and hence to some extent the population policy of the federal government Within the vector CGC the variables y_i p_i c are all determined by the CGC while the public good provision levels within S are determined by the States As discussed below we assume that each State perceives s N public good prices and the CGC variables except the adjustment term c to be exogenously given This is reasonable since in practice the States have no impact on s and only a marginal impact on the CGC variables
