English Syntax

The Different Types of Syntax

Generative syntax	how sentences are generated by the human brain
Transformational syntax	how sentences can be transformed into different forms while still retaining their meaning
Descriptive syntax	how language is actually used in practice, rather than how it "should" be used according to prescriptive rules
Comparative syntax	how different languages use syntax to convey meaning

English Syntax Rules

Subject-verb agreement	The subject and verb in a sentence must agree in number (i.e. singular or plural)
Word order	English sentences generally follow a subject-verb-object (SVO) order
Use of articles and prepositions	English uses articles (a, an, the) and prepositions (in, on, at, etc.) to convey specific meanings and relationships between words
Punctuation	The use of punctuation marks like commas, periods, and semicolons helps to clarify the meaning and structure of a sentence from the fact that there are inflectional features related to each of these licensing conditions including specification for PAST and nominal person number features which affect government relations in distinct ways resulting in parametrization of S structure representa tions xi ACKNOWLEDGMENTS I wish to express my appreCiatIOn to the Department of Romance Languages at the University of Washington for support for preparation of the final manuscript and to the Department of Spanish Italian and Portuguese at the University of Virginia for a leave during which much of this research was accomplished
