The Blue House:

The Blue House Ruby Lee, 2019 The Right Fight John Kennedy Vaughan, 2018-09-18 From the author of Shields of Strength a gift that could radically change every interaction and relationship you have Reg Lloyd Pastor Praise Church Beaumont TX What is the opposite of love Many would say hate but studying the Bible reveals that it is actually fear Fear leads us to make harmful decisions and live unproductive unhappy and unfruitful lives Love is the key to a fruitful life but love must be more than a feeling Love must be an action a choice Choosing love over fear is the most powerful choice we can make Kenny Vaughan brings this timeless discussion back to the forefront of our spiritual exploration by teaching us to view life as a fruit bearing tree When we feed the roots with love the tree flourishes and we enjoy the blessings that grow upon it If we deprive our roots however if we allow fear to cut us off from love then the whole tree withers and dies Utilizing both Scripture and anecdotes from modern life The Right Fight teaches us how to tend our roots grow our fruit and through the grace of God cast fear out for good The Right Fight will hold your attention and challenge your perspective and application of love Reg Lloyd Pastor Praise Church Beaumont TX Asian Revitalization Katie Cummer, 2021-01-11 Adaptive reuse refers to reusing an old building for a purpose other than which it was originally built or designed This conservation approach has become increasingly popular around the world However there are few publications that focus on its application in Asia This book fills this gap by looking at both unique and shared aspects of adaptive reuse in three Asian urban centers Hong Kong Shanghai and Singapore Building on government policy documents and extensive field work this book contextualizes adaptive reuse in each city and reveals the impetus behind a wide range of projects from revitalization in Hong Kong commercial development in Shanghai to community building in Singapore The introductory chapter sets adaptive reuse within an international perspective noting salient differences and similarities between Asia and other parts of the world It also anchors the discussion within a regional perspective focusing on the similarities and differences between Hong Kong Shanghai and Singapore Each of the following four essays addresses a specific topic about adaptive reuse including its relationship to urban development and sustainability how it benefits heritage buildings and how it reveals best practices in heritage conservation in Asia The subsequent three essays one for each city supplemented with timelines set out a clear framework for understanding the city specific case studies that follow the essays Afterwards fifteen representative projects across the three cities are presented as in depth case studies The pairing of essays and case studies provides a detailed understanding of each city s approach to adaptive reuse in the twenty first century a time when the need for sustainable development solutions are at the forefront Intended for classroom use and professional readership this book will be of considerable value in Asia as well as elsewhere providing material for stimulating and worthwhile discussion Asian Revitalization is a highly practical and accessible volume on the long established conservation practice of adaptive reuse in East Asia Its focus on real life issues examples and challenges posed by revitalization programs in the region is extremely relevant to researchers and practitioners in architectural conservation urban design and urban studies Miles Glendinning University of Edinburgh Scotland This is a superb well documented and original book written by some of the best known and highly respected authors in the field of heritage conservation The carefully examined case studies illustrate a wide variety of solutions that highlight the work of some of the best minds of the next generations Alastair Kerr University of Victoria Canada This is a most interesting set of essays informative and thought provoking The best way to save any heritage building is by keeping it in beneficial use and how to achieve this in a sensitive manner is what these essays are about They should be vital reading for anyone considering an adaptive reuse project in Asia Michael Morrison Purcell UK With cultural heritage firmly enshrined in the global development agendas of the United Nations this well grounded volume draws upon the experience of Hong Kong SAR Shanghai and Singapore to demonstrate to scholars and practitioners alike how historic properties can be sustained through savvy adaptive reuse in the midst of tremendous urban redevelopment pressures Montira Horayangura Unakul UNESCO Bangkok Thailand It Takes a Village Ju Mayet, 2026-01-23 I have always heard the saying It takes a village to raise a child I realize many people have a hand in developing the personality and beliefs of a child The child's view and the village's view may differ at times but I believe the village is vital to the success of the child We teach a child by actions our actions The Use of Force in UN Peacekeeping Peter Nadin, 2018-02-06 This edited volume provides a detailed and nuanced analysis of UN peacekeeping and the use of force to inform a better understanding of the complex and interconnected issues at stake for the UN community Peacekeeping is traditionally viewed as a largely passive military activity governed by the principles of impartiality consent and the minimum use of force Today most large UN Peacekeeping Operations are only authorized to use force in defence of their mandates and to protect civilians under imminent threat of physical violence Recently with the deployment of the Force Intervention Brigade in the DRC the UN has gone beyond peacekeeping and into the realm of peace enforcement These developments have brought to the fore questions regarding the use of force in the context of peacekeeping The key questions addressed in this book examine not only the utility of force but also the dilemmas and constraints inherent to the purposive use of force at a strategic operational and tactical level Should UN peacekeepers exercise military initiative Is UN peacekeeping capable of undertaking offensive military operations If so then under what circumstances should peacekeepers use force How should force be wielded And against whom With chapters written by experts in the field this comprehensive volume will be of great use and interest to postgraduate students academics and experts in international security the UN peacekeeping and diplomacy The Park Chung Hee Era Byung-Kook Kim, Ezra F. Vogel, 2011-04-01 In 1961 South Korea was mired in poverty By 1979 it had a powerful industrial economy and a vibrant civil society in the making which would lead to a democratic breakthrough eight years later The transformation took place during the years of Park Chung Hee's presidency Park seized power in a coup in 1961 and ruled as a virtual dictator until his assassination in October 1979 He is credited with modernizing South Korea but at a huge political and social cost South Korea's political landscape under Park defies easy categorization The state was predatory yet technocratic reform minded yet quick to crack down on dissidents in the name of political order The nation was balanced uneasily between opposition forces calling for democratic reforms and the Park government's obsession with economic growth The chaebol a powerful conglomerate of multinationals based in South Korea received massive government support to pioneer new growth industries even as a nationwide campaign of economic shock therapy interest hikes devaluation and wage cuts met strong public resistance and caused considerable hardship This landmark volume examines South Korea's era of development as a study in the complex politics of modernization Drawing on an extraordinary range of sources in both English and Korean these essays recover and contextualize many of the ambiguities in South Korea's trajectory from poverty to a sustainable high rate of economic growth

The Peninsula Question Yoichi Funabashi, 2008-09-01 In October 2002 the United States confronted North Korea with suspicions that Pyongyang was enriching uranium in violation of the Agreed Framework that the nations had worked out during the Clinton administration North Korea subsequently evicted international monitors and resumed its nuclear weapons program The Peninsula Question chronicles the resulting second Korean nuclear crisis Japanese journalist Yoichi Funabashi informed by interviews with more than 160 diplomats and decision makers from China Japan Russia South Korea and the United States provides a behind the scenes look at the negotiations to denuclearize the peninsula Between 2002 and 2006 a series of top level diplomats including the prime minister of Japan attempted to engage with North Korea Funabashi illustrates how the individual efforts of these major powers laid the groundwork for multilateral negotiations first as the trilateral meeting and then as the Six Party Talks The first four rounds of talks 2003 2005 resulted in significant progress Unfortunately a lack of implementation after that breakthrough ultimately led to North Korea's missile tests in July and subsequent nuclear tests in October 2006 The Peninsula Question provides a window of understanding on the historical geopolitical and security concerns at play on the Korean peninsula since 2002 Offering multiple perspectives on the second Korean nuclear crisis it describes more than just the U S and North Korean points of view It pays special attention to China's dealings with North Korea providing rare insights into the decision making processes of Beijing This is an important authoritative resource for understanding the crisis in Korea and diplomacy in Northeast Asia

Museums and Design for Creative Lives Suzanne MacLeod, 2020-09-07 Museums and Design for Creative Lives questions what we sacrifice when we allow economic imperatives to shape public museums whilst also considering the implications of these new museum realities It also asks how might we instead design for creative lives Drawing together 28 case studies of museum design spanning 70 years the book explores the spatial and social forms that comprise these successful examples as well as the design methodologies through which they were produced Re-activating a well trodden history of progressive museum design and raising awareness of the involvement of the built forms in how we feel think and act MacLeod provides strategies and methods to actively counter the economisation of museums and a call to museum makers to work beyond the economic and advance this deeply human history of museum making Museums and Design for Creative Lives will be of great interest to academics and students in museum studies gallery studies heritage studies arts management communication and architecture and design departments as well as those interested in understanding more about design as a resource in museums The book provides a valuable resource for museum leaders and practitioners
