The Christian ministry Charles Bridges,1844     The Christian Ministry Charles Bridges,1831     The Christian Ministry Charles Bridges,2018-12-18 The classic of Christian ministerial thought by Charles Bridges is presented to the reader anew in this superb edition complete with the author's annotations For the author the curious point that the ministry failed in many of its core duties was sufficient genesis for a book Why did this failure occur Had modern priests and ministers lost their way from the tradition and essence of Christian belief Were corruptions of the heart frequent and getting commoner These questions are answered with unflinching sincerity humans including the ordained have shortfalls which can only be assuaged by opening one's heart completely to God The later parts of the text focus upon the essential duties of the churchman preaching with the aim of uniting the congregation and community in an unstinting belief in the Lord is not a simple matter Rather we discover it to be a diverse practice the preacher must not only incorporate aspects of the doctrinal and scriptural truths but be sensitive to the emotions of his churchgoers The virtues of faith be it a celebration of diligence or steadfastness against adversity should be balanced against the human needs for well being and spiritual contentment A further element of ministerial duty is the pastoral work in the local community This can be appealing to the unbelievers or infidels in the locality visiting the sick or dying and offering comfort to their family and being a source of spiritual counsel A ready guard against backsliding wherein members of a community gradually renounce their beliefs in God equates to a need of vigilance in the minister A lifelong man of God Bridges was educated at Queens College Cambridge Graduating with honors he entered the ministry and spent decades as a vicar in Old Newton Suffolk and in later life Weymouth in Dorset Together with his pastoral duties he delved into the Bible and other ancient texts becoming a theologian of great repute Popular in his lifetime for his commentaries of scripture the famed 19th century preacher C H Spurgeon declared one of Bridges works to be worth its weight in gold     The Christian Ministry; with an Inquiry Into the Causes of Its Inefficiency; with an Especial Reference to the Ministry of the Establishment Rev. from The Christian Ministry The object of this book is to furnish some answer to this question to indicate to priests and preachers what it is which induces half the population of New York city to lay aside their commercial pursuits and gather in their churches every seventh day to interpret to themselves the men and women who form these congregations and explain to them what it is that they are often unconsciously seeking and to indicate to those who rarely or never do go to church the advantage which they might secure if they were in this respect to conform to the custom not only of their fellow countrymen in America but of their fellow men throughout the world The Christian minister fulfills a fourfold function he is pastor administrator priest and prophet or preacher As pastor he is the personal friend and counselor of his people as administrator the executive head of his church which should be his force as well as his field These two aspects of his work are not considered in this volume it is devoted exclusively to a consideration of the minister as priest and prophet About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
