Imagining the Internet Janna Quitney Anderson, 2005-07-14 In the early 1990s people predicted the death of privacy an end to the current concept of property a paperless society 500 channels of high definition interactive television world peace and the extinction of the human race after a takeover engineered by intelligent machines Imagining the Internet zeroes in on predictions about the Internet's future and revisits past predictions and how they turned out It gives the history of communications in a nutshell illustrating the serious impact of pervasive networks and how they will change our lives over the next century The Heart of the Internet Jacques Vallee,2003 Jacques Vallee was among the engineers and visionaries who set up the Internet hoping to connect people not control them through information For a few years it seemed that this dream was being realized But after the dot com crash of 2001 much of the Web's information flowed into the media giants and corporate conglomerates leaving millions of Net denizens without true freedom of choice And then there is the threat of government snooping All is not lost but it is time for public and private actions to rebuild the dream and win back our freedom In The Heart of the Internet Vallee reconstructs the history of computer technology and destroys a few myths Eniac was not the first computer Apple did not invent the mouse and neither did Xerox uses first person recollections and notes to describe the series of breakthroughs that transformed computers from calculating machines to universal platforms for new media describes the Internet in today's marketplace pressured on the one hand by commercial interests seeking to influence not merely our purchases but our thoughts and on the other by governmental obsession to harness the whole system to its own narrow definitions of security sacrificing our privacy and possibly our freedom in the process states a set of principles for network citizens and suggests how we can create new standards for Internet usage Book jacket

Making Sense of the Internet Mark Watson,1998 Using the Internet Jerry Honeycutt,1996 The Political Economy of the Internet in Asia and the Pacific Jason Abbott,2004-12-30 Diverse contributors explore the impact of the Internet in the Asia Pacific region The Internet Myth Paolo Bory,2020-04-29 The Internet is broken and Paolo Bory knows how we got here In a powerful book based on original research Bory carefully documents the myths imaginaries and ideologies that shaped the material and cultural history of the Internet As important as this book is to understand our shattered digital world it is essential for those who would fix it Vincent Mosco author of The Smart City in a Digital World The Internet Myth retraces and challenges the myth laying at the foundations of the network ideologies the idea that networks by themselves are the main agents of social economic political and cultural change By comparing and integrating different sources related to network histories this book emphasizes how a dominant narrative has extensively contributed to the construction of the Internet myth while other visions of the networked society have been erased from the collective imaginary The book decodes analyzes and challenges the foundations of the network ideologies looking at how networks have been imagined designed and promoted during the crucial phase of the 1990s Three case studies are scrutinized so as to reveal the complexity of network imaginaries in this decade the birth of the Web and the mythopoesis of its inventor and the histories of two Italian networking projects the infrastructural plan Socrate and the civic network Iperbole the first to give free Internet access to citizens The Internet Myth thereby provides a compelling and hidden sociohistorical narrative in order to challenge one of the most powerful myths of our time This title has been published with the financial assistance of the Fondazione Hilda e Felice Vitali Lugano Switzerland A Legal Guide to the Internet ,2005
