Rabb,2011-01-24 How have artists across the millennia responded to warfare In this uniquely wide ranging book Theodore Rabb blends military history and the history of art to search for the answers He draws our attention to masterpieces from the ancient world to the twentieth century paintings sculpture ceramics textiles engravings architecture and photographs and documents the evolving nature of warfare as artists have perceived it The selected works represent landmarks in the history of art and are drawn mainly from the western tradition though important examples from Japan India and the Middle East are also brought into the discussion Together these works tell a story of long centuries during which warfare inspired admiration and celebration Yet a shift toward criticism and condemnation emerged in the Renaissance and by the end of the nineteenth century glorification of the warrior by leading artists had ceased Rabb traces this progression from such works as the Column of Trajan and the Titian Battle of Lepanto whose makers celebrated glorious victories to the antiwar depictions created by Brueghel Goya Picasso and others Richly illustrated and accessibly written this book presents a study of unprecedented sweep and multidisciplinary interest Book jacket      American Indian Rock Art American Rock Art Research Association.
