Words Of The World The Global Language System:

Words of the World Abram De Swaan, 2002-01-21 This bold and accessible study of human languages and communication explores issues which are at the forefront of today's globalized society. The human species is divided into more than five thousand language groups that do not understand each other. And yet these groups constitute one coherent world language system connected by multilingual speakers in a surprisingly powerful way. The chances of a language thriving depend on its position in the system. There are thousands of small peripheral languages each connected to one of a hundred central languages. The entire system is held together by one global language, English. A language is a hypercollective good: the more speakers it has, the higher its communication value for each one of them. Thus when people think that a language is gaining new speakers, that in itself is a reason for them to want to learn it too. That is why in an age of globalization only a few languages remain for transnational communication and these often prevail even in national societies. This important book discusses a number of specific constellations in detail: India, Indonesia, Sub-Saharan Africa, South Africa, and the European Union. De Swaan concludes by providing a sober but illuminating view of language policy in multilingual societies. This book will be essential reading for those studying sociology, communication studies, and linguistics.

informs readers on the connections between language education and political ideologies in the context of globalizing China. The discussion of the implications concerning language education is of interest for current and future language policy makers, language educators and learners. Including both diachronic and synchronic accounts of China's language education policy, this volume highlights how China as a modern nation state has been seeking a more central position globally and the role that English education and the promotion of such education played in that effort in recent decades.

Language Problems & Language Planning, 2006 Language George Melville Belling, Bernard Bloch, 2010 Proceedings of the annual meeting of the Society in v 1 11 1925 34 After 1934 they appear in Its Bulletin The Local Construction of a Global Language Joseph Sung-Yul Park, 2009 The book investigates how the hegemony of English in South Korea is constructed through the mediation of language ideologies. Based on an innovative analysis of metalinguistic discourse in language policy debates, cross-linguistic humor, television Dialect Death in Europe? David Britain, Reinhild Vandekerckhove, 2009 Global Television Barbara Selznick, 2008-06-13 Explores the ways international co-productions such as Highlander: The Series and The Odyssey are changing television into a transnational commodity. Barbara Selznick examines the particular processes by which the international circulation of culture takes place while addressing larger cultural issues such as identity formation. The Cambridge Handbook of Language Policy Bernard Spolsky, 2012-03 This is the first Handbook to deal with language policy as a whole and is a complete state of the field survey covering language practices, beliefs about language varieties and methods and agencies for language management. It will be welcomed by students, researchers and language professionals in linguistics, education and politics. Book Review Index, 2006 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation. Law, Politics, and Morality Jordi Ferrer Beltrán, Marisa Iglesias Vila, 2003 How different cultural groups can be made to live together in justice and fairness in one common political entity has in the past been discussed almost exclusively from the perspective of nation states. In an increasingly globalising or de-nationalising world, this no longer seems adequate. The European Union as a union of states and with an built expansive tendency is a very different, unique kind of organization offering a challenging new context for the discussion of how social justice can be ensured in multicultural societies. As debates in the post-Maastricht era show, the European process of regional integration needs to be accompanied by profound reflexions on issues such as multiculturalism, democratic legitimacy and the idea of citizenship. In three sections on Globalisation and Multiculturalism, Deliberation and Democracy and Citizenship and the European Union, this book offers such reflexions formulated by young European legal and political philosophers from England, Estonia, France, Italy, Spain and Switzerland. The papers were discussed at a conference held in November 2001 in Tossa de Mar, Spain. This was the first of three PhD EuroConferences in Legal Philosophy sponsored by the Commission of the European Union. The papers of the other two conferences, Nov 2002, Gerona, Spain; Nov 2003, Genoa, Italy, are forthcoming in this collection. Where Here Begins David Jennings Gramling, 2008 FoL, 2006 Proceedings from the Parasessions of the Chicago Linguistic Society's ...
