The Chatham Killing:

The Chatham Killing Jack Ehrlich, 1976-11 The Paper Zoo Charlotte Sleigh, 2017-03-08 As children our first encounters with the world's animals do not arise during expeditions through faraway jungles or on perilous mountain treks. Instead we meet these creatures between the pages of a book on the floor of an obliging library. Down through the centuries illustrated books have served as our paper zoos both documenting the world's extraordinary wildlife in exquisite detail and revealing in hindsight how our relationship to and understanding of these animals have evolved over time. In this stunning book historian of science Charlotte Sleigh draws on the ultimate bibliophile's menagerie the collections of the British Library to present a lavishly illustrated homage to this historical collaboration between art and science. Gathering together a breathtaking range of nature illustrations from manuscripts prints drawings and rare printed books from across the world Sleigh brings us face to face or face to tentacle with images of butterflies beetles and spiders of shells fish and coral polyps. Organized into four themed sections exotic native domestic and paradoxical the images introduce us to some of the world's most renowned natural history illustrators from John James Audubon to Mark Catesby and Ernst Haeckel as well as to lesser known artists. In her accompanying text Sleigh traces the story of the art of natural history from the Renaissance through the great age of exploration and into the nineteenth century offering insight into the changing connections between the natural and human worlds. But the story does not end there. From caterpillars to crabs langurs to dugongs stick insects to Old English pigs from the sinuous tail feathers of birds of paradise to the lime green wings of New Zealand's enormous flightless parrot the kakapo from the crenellated plates of a tortoise's shell to imagined likenesses of unicorns mermaids and dinosaurs the story continues in this book. It is a Paper Zoo for all time.

The Death Gap David A. Ansell, MD, David A. Ansell, 2021-06-16 We hear plenty about the widening income gap between the rich and the poor in America and about the expanding distance separating the haves and the have nots. But when detailing the many things that the poor have not we often overlook the most critical their health. The poor die sooner. Blacks die sooner. And poor urban blacks die sooner than almost all other Americans. In nearly four decades as a doctor at hospitals serving some of the poorest communities in Chicago David A. Ansell MD has witnessed firsthand the lives behind these devastating statistics. In The Death Gap he gives a grim survey of these realities drawn from observations and stories of his patients. While the contrasts and disparities among Chicago's communities are particularly stark the death gap is truly a nationwide epidemic as Ansell shows there is a thirty five year difference in life expectancy between the healthiest and wealthiest and the poorest and sickest American neighborhoods. If you are poor where you live in America can dictate when you die. It doesn't need to be this way such divisions are not inevitable. Ansell calls out the social and cultural arguments that have been raised as ways of explaining or excusing these gaps and he lays bare the structural violence the racism economic exploitation and discrimination that is really to blame. Inequality is a disease Ansell argues and we need to treat and eradicate it as we would any major illness. To do so he outlines a vision that will provide the foundation for a healthier nation for all As the COVID 19 mortality rates in underserved communities proved inequality is all around us and often the distance between high and low life expectancy can be a matter of just a few blocks Updated with a new foreword by Chicago mayor Lori Lightfoot and an afterword by Ansell The Death Gap speaks to the urgency to face this national health crisis head on
