This translation is in King James English making comparisons between it and the King James Bible easily This is a topical guide that will take a word or short phrase and find it in every verse of the Koran where it appears These verses are placed together so that the reader can readily determine the context and therefore the meaning of the word or phrase In some instances such as the word jihad which does not appear in the Sale translation it is traced in the University of Michigan's online translation of the Koran There it appears thirteen times but in only two does it mean an internal struggle In the other eleven it means warfare When analyzing words and phrases in the Koran it is important to know when they were received and written It is also important to know that the Koran includes material that seems to come from other sources This has been outlined in volume 2 of the 1 300 Years War As noted in volume 1 of the 1 300 Years War Muhammad PBUH has been thought by many for over 150 years to have suffered from temporal lobe epilepsy associated with visual and auditory hallucinations These seizures last less than three minutes It is therefore important to know which suras might have come from a single episode A table shows this in volume 1 table 8 Many scholars divide the Koran into four major periods early Mecca AD 610 615 mid Mecca AD 616 late Mecca AD 617 621 and Medina AD 622 632 The analysis of the verses in these periods found that militancy against non Muslims progresses 7 7 percent of the verses from early Mecca are militant This rises to 10 6 percent in the mid Mecca period and 18 3 percent in the late Mecca period It tops out at 29 3 percent in the Medina period The colored version of the topical guide shows these periods in black blue green and red In the black and white edition it shows these four periods of the Koran in plain italics boldface italics regular plain type and boldface regular type The reason this division is important is the doctrine of abrogation 2 106 given early in the Medina period This states that verses given later may nullify verses given earlier Thus many peaceful verses given in the early parts of the Koran may be nullified by the verse of the sword 9 5 given later toward the end of the prophet's life Slay the idolaters wherever you find them So far as I have been able to determine there has been no stylistic analysis of the Koran A person studying the Koran or the history of Islam will find this work most valuable victims of Holocaust but much fewer on the Soviet Union a Nazi German partner in crime whose offences were whitewashed or underreported Two trains from Poland is a beautiful and moving story almost epic account of a little 6 years old Polish girl from an upper middle class father a lawyer mother a university graduate very literate housewife a three year old sister and grandparents living nearby It is a story of survival written 60 years after the events A midnight knock at her door changed everything for a 6 year old Krystyna Sklenarz In the middle of the night a Soviet NKWD KGB agent informed her mother that that they are being deported from Poland to Siberia When asked by her terrified and anxious mother for more details regarding their final destination the NKWD officer coolly retorted you are going to where the devil says goodbye an old Russian saying needing no further amplification In her memoirs Krystyna depicts horror of war from occupation by hostile powers two years in Siberia starvation typhus life threatening illness in a foreign and hostile country void of rudimentary sanitation and medication shuttered and disrupted family life death of her younger sister an opium den in Persia mingled with the native aristocracy learned to speak Farsi being torpedoed near South Africa and the arriving in London to live through the Nazi Blitz in the London subway and talking briefly to the Queen Through it all Krystyna refused to give up This is her story this is her journey from the Siberian wasteland through her struggle to achieve education in a foreign language in only five years to her entrance into medical school at only 17 The palette of her life has many hues some bright some dark and hopeless others funny Events happened in her life which at times tested credulity In Teheran in 1942 she was a guest on several occasions in the home of the Shah s relative and in London the Queen spoke to her a few words Krystyna recounts all of this in this tale of courage and perseverance discussing her stubborn refusal to allow the Nazis or Soviets to defeat her and recounts her later journey and struggles as a female striving to be a doctor when women weren t supposed to be doctors The surviving little girl grew up and became a principled and caring woman whose life taught her self reliance and dismissed outright any dependence on immediate relief of stress or adversity by artificial intervention through counseling support groups drugs legal or illegal the devices many rely on in our society used to relieve stress and life disappointments Doctor Sklenarz was an extraordinary woman weathering life in Soviet imprisonment in exile in then man dominated field of medicine winning admiration of her peers patients acquiesces and love of the entire family scattered through the world Through out the entire fourteen months of struggle with painful terminal cancer Krystyna was true to her character and principles bearing her fate with dignified stoicism endurance and without complaints With her attention to detail and vivid recollection of events Krystyna takes the reader through a remarkable journey in history and of the human spirit
