Trisha Brown Trisha Brown, 1976 Becomings Johanna Kirk, 2024-06-04 This book explores postmodern choreographic engagements of pregnant bodies in the US over the last 70 years Johanna Kirk discusses how choreographers negotiate identification with the look of their pregnant bodies to maintain a sense of integrity as artists and to control representations of their gender and physical abilities while pregnant Across chapters the artists discussed include Anna Halprin Trisha Brown Twyla Tharp Sandy Jamrog Jane Comfort Jody Oberfelder Jawole Willa Jo Zollar Miguel Guti rrez Yanira Castro No mie LaFrance and Meg Foley By presenting their bodies in performance these artists demonstrate how their experiences surrounding pregnancy intersect not only with their artform and its history but also with their personal experiences of race gender and sexual identification In these pages Johanna Kirk argues that choreography offers them tools that are alternative to medicine or other forms of social representation for understanding what how pregnant bodies do and feel and what they can mean for individuals and their communities The works within these chapters invite readers to see dancing bodies and pregnant bodies in new ways and for their potential to manifest new possibilities This study will be of great interest to

The Woman at the Keyhole Judith Mayne,1990-12-22 The Woman at the Keyhole is one of the most significant contributions to feminist film theory sin ce the 1970s SubStance this intelligent eminently readable volume puts women s filmmaking on the main stage serves at once as introduction and original contribution to the debates structuring the field Erudite but never obscure effectively argued but not polemical The Woman at the Keyhole should prove to be a valuable text for courses on women and cinema The Independent When we imagine a woman and a keyhole it is usually a woman on the other side of the keyhole as the proverbial object of the look that comes to mind In this work the author is not necessarily reversing the conventional image but rather asking what happens when women are situated on both sides of the keyhole In all of the films discussed the threshold between subject and object between inside and outside between virtually all opposing pairs is a central figure for the reinvention of cinematic narrative
