Negotiating Risk Alison Shaw, 2009 Drawing on fieldwork with British Pakistani clients of a UK genetics service this book explores the personal and social implications of a genetic diagnosis Through case material and comparative discussion the book identifies practical ethical dilemmas raised by new genetic knowledge and shows how while being shaped by culture these issues also cross cut differences of culture religion and ethnicity The book also demonstrates how identifying a population level elevated risk of genetic disorders in an ethnic minority population can reinforce existing social divisions and cultural stereotypes The book addresses questions about the relationship between genetic risk and clinical practice that will be relevant to health workers and policy makers

Relational Autonomy Catriona Mackenzie, Natalie Stoljar, 2000 These essays explore the social and relational dimensions of individual autonomy Rejecting the feminist charge that autonomy is inherently masculinist the contributors draw on feminist critiques of autonomy to challenge philosophical debates about agency identity and moral responsibility Public Understanding of Science ,2009 A forum for the emerging interdisciplinary field of public understanding of science this journal encourages open debate of contrasting and even conflicting viewpoints on all aspects of the interrelationships between science and the public
