The War Illustrators Pat Hodgson,1977 Colours of War Alan Ross,1983 Outstanding were the large scale works dealing with aerial warfare of England by Paul Nash a survivor of the Western Front Three exceptionally talented war artists were killed Eric Ravilious whose subjects ranged from northern convoys and submarines to the Fleet Air Arm Albert Richards who painted paratroopers and tank battles during the advance into Germany and Thomas Hennell who began work in trawlers off Iceland and was last seen in Java The war in Europe the Middle East and Burma was recorded variously by Edward Bawden Anthony Gross Edward Ardizzone and William Coldstream Leonard Rosoman drew aircraft on the flight decks of carriers in Japanese waters Barnett Freedman produced studies of submarine and battleship crews Some of the most dramatic paintings of the war were those made by Richard Eurich of preparations for D Day In almost every case active service had a crucial effect on the subsequent work of war artists Art of War H. Avery Chenoweth,2002 Great world conflicts have produced not only great military heroes but also great artists who have documented the heroism and the bloody battles Spanning wars that have involved U S troops this gallery of outstanding works of art ranges from majestic land sea and airscapes portraying all the branches of the armed services to closeups of hand to hand combat The paintings are more expressive than photographs because they compress many experiences into a single view Charts and maps clarify particular scenes and first hand testimonies of the men and women who participated in the battles add an extra dimension The many oversize reproductions highlight some of the most moving paintings and illustrations ever created in the field of combat art most made available to the public for the first time A Selection of the Military Book Club A Combat Artist in World War II Edward Reep,2014-07-15 Many artists have fought in wars and renowned painters have recorded heroic scenes of great battles but those works were usually done long after the battles were waged Artists have also been commissioned to visit briefly war torn areas and make notes of the devastation and horror Yet few artists who were members of any armed services have drawn or painted daily while they fought alongside their comrades Edward Reep as an official combat artist in World War II painted and sketched while the battles of the Italian campaign raged around him He was shelled mortared and strafed At Monte Cassino the earth trembled as he attempted to paint the historic bombing of that magnificent abbey Later racing into Milan with armed partisans on the fenders of his Jeep he saw the bodies of Mussolini and his beautiful mistress cut down from the gas station where they had been hanged by their heels That same day he witnessed at first hand the spectacle of a large German army force holed up in a high rise office tower waiting for the chance to surrender to the proper American brass for fear of falling into the hands of the vengeful partisans Reep s recollections of such desperate days are made more memorable in Combat Artist by the many painfully vivid paintings and drawings that accompany the text Reep s battlefield drawings show us with unrelenting honesty the horrors and griefs and the bitter comedy of that war fought to end wars that only spawned more The Sketchbook War Richard Knott,2013-06-01 During the Second World War British artists produced over 6 000 works of war art but this is not a book about art rather the stories of nine courageous war artists who ventured closer to the front line than any others in their profession Edward Ardizzone Edward Bawden Barnett Freedman Anthony Gross Thomas Hennell Eric Ravilious Albert Richards Richard Seddon and John Worsley all travelled abroad into the dangers of war to chronicle events by painting them They formed a close bond yet two were torpedoed two were taken prisoner and three died two in 1945 when the war was nearly over Men who had previously made a comfortable living painting in studios were transformed by military uniforms and experiences that were to shape the rest of their lives and their work significantly influenced the way in which we view war today Portraying how war and art came together in a moving and dramatic way and incorporating vivid examples of their paintings this is the true story behind the war artists who fought lived and died for their art on the front line of the Second World War Art and War Michael Richard Daniell Foot,1990
