'Tikkun Olam' –To Mend the World Jason Goroncy, 2013-12-04 Tikkun Olam To Mend the World is premised on the conviction that artists and theologians have things to learn from one another things about the complex interrelationality of life and about a coherence of things given and sustained by God The ten essays compiled in this volume seek to attend to the lives burdens and hopes that characterize human life in a world broken but unforgotten in travail but moving towards the freedom promised by a faithful Creator They reflect on whether the world wounded as it is by war by hatred by exploitation by neglect by reason and by human imagination itself can be healed Can there be repair And can art and theology tell the truth of the world s woundedness and still speak of its hope      Liturgy, Theurgy, and Active Participation Kjetil Kringlebotten, 2023-09-08 Providing a metaphysical grounding for liturgical participation this book argues that active participation in the liturgy must be understood principally as our participation in God s act particularly in the act of Christ and only secondarily as our ritual involvement Utilizing Neoplatonist philosophy Kjetil Kringlebotten proposes that this should be understood in terms of theurgy which is the human participation in divine action which finds its consummation in the incarnation of Christ Without the incarnation all acts will remain extrinsic and imposed but acts can become real and intrinsic precisely because the incarnation makes possible true union with the divine a metaphysical union in distinction without confusion because this union is not extrinsic Through union with Christ as the one common focus of the divine human relation we can have true union with God and may offer true worship In order to make sense of active participation then we need to understand theology in theurgic terms where theurgy is understood not as a mechanical coercion of God but as a participation in His act in creation and through Christ as the true theurgist the master theurgist Whose work transforms our act and the liturgy      Diversity in Japanese Education Naoko Araki, 2017-06-09 No one is born fully formed it is through self experience in the world that we become what we are Paulo Freire Diversity in Japanese Education explores self experience of individual learners and educators in Japan The word diversity is not limited to one s ethnic background Here diversity refers to one s pedagogical experiences and life experiences to the norms beliefs and values that impact such relations These experiences and relations are fluid as they are shaped and reshaped in global and glocal settings They are also reflected in praxis of English language learning and teaching in Japan The authors educational backgrounds vary but they all share the common ground of being educators in Japan Through being involved in learning and or teaching English language in Japan they have witnessed and experienced diversity in their own pedagogical context The book focuses on shifting critical and reflexive eyes on qualitative studies of pedagogical experiences rather than presenting one fixed view of Japanese education

Truth, Beauty, and Goodness in Biblical Narratives Kris Sonek, 2009-05-05 A modern reader studying biblical narratives encounters various literary approaches and ways of understanding interpretive concepts Hence an attempt to put forward a comprehensive hermeneutical model of reading biblical narratives Such a model should aim at a synthesis of various approaches and show how they are interrelated The book proposes a hermeneutical theory which uses modern approaches to literary texts for the exegesis of biblical narratives The book discusses three spheres of the reader's knowledge about reality immanent narrative and transcendental The move from immanent to transcendental knowledge through the mediation of narrative knowledge results from the mediatory role played by the biblical text which refers the reader to a transcendent reality This theory is then applied to the exegesis of Genesis 21 1 21 and involves the evaluation of the New Criticism rhetorical criticism structuralism and narrative analysis reader response criticism the historical critical method as well as deconstruction In order to satisfy the postulate of pluralism in interpretation the hermeneutical theory draws upon a variety of ancient and modern sources such as Aristotle T S Eliot Hans Urs von Balthasar and Paul Ricoeur

Centre of Excellence, 2021-11-08 Tending the Fire That Burns at the Center of the World David F. White, 2022-07-29

Tending the Fire That Burns at the Center of the World engages the central question of Christian formation that is what kind of knowing is most likely to awaken and sustain Christian faith This book seeks to reclaim aesthetics beauty and creativity as the church's most native theological way of knowing and being which participates with God's own glory and creativity This book traces the prominence of aesthetics up until the dawn of the Enlightenment including recent theologians who reclaim aesthetics for theology and formation The book elaborates the aims and techniques of aesthetic approaches to teaching and learning in the church Finally this book cautions against overly determined rationalisms and moralisms that do not retain a sense of wonder delight and openness in the church's teaching liturgy and proclamation In this view the church does not simply regurgitate familiar texts political tropes or flattened doctrines but breaks into the world as Christ's body a parable a song a flash mob interrupting business as usual giving new expression to acts of care repentance forgiveness joy and communion awake to the beauty of God's gifts and inviting our worship

Why Write Poetry? Jeannine Johnson, 2007

Poets have long been defending poetry in prose and essays by Sidney Shelley and others are a familiar and important part of the Anglo American literary tradition This book identifies and examines a related genre the verse defense of poetry which shares the same impulse that has led to the composition of prose essays namely the desire to protect poetry from its detractors and to promote its value as a vital human endeavor In the last century or so this impulse to engage questions of poetry's value in poems has become increasingly widespread and it has dominated the careers of at least five poets H D Wallace Stevens W H Auden Adrienne Rich and Geoffrey Hill Though these poets espouse very different aesthetic principles they like many of their contemporaries have repeatedly turned to apology in their verse At first glance this seems an odd gesture given that the readers and writers of poetry are those who least need convincing of poetry's worthiness But questioning poetry in verse is a form of lyric introspection that is productive and well suited for a modern poet characterized as one of indifference defense helps these authors make a claim for poetry's cultural relevance as well as for its private profit
