Holocaust Education and the Church-Related College Stephen R. Haynes, 1997-05-28 In 1994 Haynes conducted a nationwide survey designed to yield a picture of Holocaust education at U S church related liberal arts colleges A questionnaire was mailed to 521 institutions Of the 317 which responded only 91 offered a regular course on the Holocaust The results of the survey were disappointing States that the Holocaust was a rupture in two traditions the Christian one and that of liberal education Both Christian education and liberal education bear responsibility for the Holocaust because both produced ordinary educated persons who were nevertheless capable of committing genocide The church related colleges of liberal arts have a religious obligation to teach the Holocaust as part of higher education s penance for this The Christian scholar must realize the responsibility of Christianity for the Holocaust Proposes practical strategies and measures for including the Holocaust in college curricula Pp 157 170 contain the questionnaire graphs displaying the results of the survey and a list of the colleges involved

Invisible Privilege Paula S. Rothenberg, 2000 Reviewing the social upheaval of the seventies that challenged fundamental assumptions about gender roles race relations and even the nature of the family Rothenberg tells how she gained a new understanding of what it meant to be an educator and activist Teaching Race in the 21st Century Lisa Guerrero,2008-11-15 This collection brings together pedagogical memoirs on significant topics regarding teaching race in college including student resistance whiteness professor identity and curricula Linking theory to practice the essays create an accessible and useful way to look at teaching race for wide audiences interested in issues within higher education Written by professors in various fields in the humanities and social sciences the collection looks at how the integration of racial issues into the college classroom though never straightforward is extremely imperative and should strive to respond to the changing landscapes of college campuses and American society Journal of Cooperative Education ,2001 American Educational Research Association Annual Meeting Program American Educational Research Association,1994 Frontiers ,2012 A journal of women studies Sources Frederick Marshall Schultz,1995
