Sunflower Science And Technology:

Sunflower Science and Technology Jack F. Carter, 1978      Sunflower Science and Technology Jack F. Carter, 1978 This monograph offers a concise review of the latest findings in sunflower for researchers throughout the world Sunflower Production and Technology offers an extensive revision from the previous monograph Significant progress has been made since 1978 in the areas of applied and basic sunflower research Biotechnology is covered in the new monograph The new monograph contains four more chapters than the previous edition      Sunflower Science and Technology Number 19 in the Sevier Agronomy Carter Jack F., 1978      Developments in Oils and Fats R. J. Hamilton, 2012-12-06 This first volume in a series is intended to provide up to date information on specific topics in oils and fats The book will be especially valuable for any practising scientist or technologist who deals in any way with oils and fats whether from a nutritional surfactant cosmetic or analytical chemistry point of view In addition there is sufficient depth in most of the articles to catch the imagination of many more senior managers in the industry The oils and fats industry is closely aligned with the food industry and it is no surprise to find that five of the chapters 1 2 3 6 and 7 are written from a food perspective The current arguments about diets and their fat content are well developed in Dr Enser s chapter on meat lipids He has presented a very balanced picture explaining that there are many reports which contradict the fashionable saturated fatty acids are bad theory This chapter will do much to illustrate the dietary implications of meat lipids and should stimulate discussion and further research

Genetic Improvement of Field Crops Gustavo A. Slafer, 2021-04-29 Outlining successful breeding techniques to augment the yields of the world s major crops this reference analyzes the physiological and genetic basis for past and potential future increases in crop yields Covering crops with wide differences in morphology photosynthetic rates and nitrogen metabolisms Genetic Improvement of Field Crops investigates the changes produced by breeders in the physiological attributes affecting wheat grain yield and nitrogen content during the last century discusses those crop characteristics of oats that have already been altered or might be manipulated through breeding to further increase yield potential describes several genetic factors responsible for both yield potential and stress resistance in barley offers insights into the relationship between increases in the yield potential and stress tolerance of corn examines the evolution of sunflower crop yields and yield stability and estimates the contribution of improved cultivars evaluates the effects of breeding on tuber characteristics related to the crop growth and yield of the potato elucidates the possibilities for simultaneous improvement of yield and fiber strength in cotton and identifies the features to be considered in the development of high yielding varieties of rice for different agricultural systems Providing nearly 1600 key literature citations allowing further in depth study of particular topics Genetic Improvement of Field Crops is for plant physiologists and breeders crop and agricultural scientists agronomists biochemists geneticists biotechnologists microbiologists and upper level undergraduate and graduate students in these disciplines      Drying Atlas Werner Muhlbauer, Joachim Muller, 2020-02-21 Drying Atlas Drying Kinetics and Quality of Agricultural Products provides in a condensed and systematic way specific insights on the drying relevant properties and coefficients of over 40 agricultural products It also presents information about the production methods that influence the drying process the quality of the dried product the official quality standards of the products and the design principles and operating characteristics of drying systems that are widely used in the postharvest processing and food industry Available books on drying technology mainly focus on drying theory and simulation of drying processes This book offers systematic information on the impact of other important parameters such as relative humidity air flow rate mechanical thermal and chemical pre treatment and drying mode for specific products It is a unique and valuable reference for scientists and engineers who want to focus on industrial drying applications and dryers as well as graduate and post graduate students in postharvest technology and drying Explores the production methods that influence the drying process and quality of the dried product Outlines the official quality standards of the products the design principles and the operating characteristics of drying systems that are used in postharvest processing Features 41 chapters that are each for an agricultural product presented in a condensed and systematic way Journal of Science and Technology ,1980 The Cambridge World History of Food Kenneth F. Advanced Crop Improvement, Volume 2 Aamir Raina,Mohammad Rafiq Wani,Rafiul Amin Laskar,Nasya Tomlekova,Samiullah Khan,2023-09-07 As per the reports of FAO the human population will rise to 9 billion by the end of 2050 and 70% of more food must be produced over the next three decades to feed the additional population The breeding approaches for crop improvement programs are dependent on the availability and accessibility of genetic variation either spontaneous or induced by the mutagens Plant breeders agronomists and geneticists are under constant pressure to expand food production by employing innovative breeding strategies to enhance yield adaptability nutrition resistance to biotic and abiotic stresses In conventional breeding approaches introgression of genes in crop varieties is laborious and time consuming

Nowadays new innovative plant breeding techniques such as molecular breeding and plant biotechnology supplement the traditional breeding approaches to achieve the desired goals of enhanced food production. With the advent of recent molecular tools like genomics, transgenics, molecular marker assisted back crossing, TILLING, Eco TILLING, gene editing, CRISPR/CAS, non-targeted protein abundant comparative proteomics, genome wide association studies, have made possible mapping of important QTLs, insertion of transgenes, reduction of linkage drags and manipulation of genome. In general, conventional and modern plant breeding approaches would be strategically ideal for developing new elite crop varieties to meet the feeding requirement of the increasing world population. This book highlights the latest progress in the field of plant breeding and their applicability in crop improvement. The basic concept of this 2 volume work is to assess the use of modern breeding strategies in supplementing the conventional breeding toward the development of elite crop varieties for obtaining desired goals of food production. Science, Technology, and Innovation in Uganda Sukhdeep Brar, 2011 Science Technology and Innovation in Uganda is part of the World Bank Studies series. These papers are published to communicate the results of the Bank's ongoing research and to stimulate public discussion. This study presents a unique methodology to view science, technology and innovation (STI) in developing countries. The study provides a set of case studies drawn from a diverse range of experiences across the Ugandan private sector and offers concrete policy recommendations on how to support broader development of STI in Uganda. The study finds that of all the STI challenges facing firms, universities and public research organizations in Uganda, the barriers to collaboration and communication are the most urgent in terms of STI priorities to address in the coming years. Applied Science & Technology Index, 1979 Station Bulletin, 1973
