Johns, 2000 Guidebook for establishing an effective writing program Creative writing as a method for promoting writing competence Hanna Cieslak, 2022-01-10 Seminar paper from the year 2008 in the subject Didactics Common Didactics Educational Objectives Methods grade 1 3 Ruhr University of Bochum language English abstract Reading and writing are central key competences of everyday life in society Without the corresponding skills it is becoming increasingly difficult to participate in life in our literate society Teaching writing skills to pupils in short SuS is thus a fundamental task of school education and upbringing Based on these findings this thesis attempts to show to what extent creative writing methods can promote writing among students In the first chapter the field of writing itself is explained in more detail In this context the first step is to show theoretically what is meant by the term writing process Then the area of writing strategies is discussed The focus of this chapter is on writing competence which entails a definition of this term and explains the different levels of competence However writing competences are not only closely related to the writing process and writing strategies but also to writing development In this context BECKER MROTZEK B TITCHER have tried to divide the process of writing development into different levels of development which are presented in conclusion The second chapter deals with the field of creative writing After defining the term creative writing and explaining the aims of using this method the six method groups of creative writing are presented based on B TITCHER Finally this chapter is dedicated to the question of whether creative writing actually promotes the students writing competence In this context an attempt is made to analyse on the basis of selected student essays whether these contain for example certain text patterns lexical or grammatical knowledge which are components of writing competence and can be further developed through creative writing occasions

Reading-to-Write Linda Flower,Victoria Stein,John Ackerman,Margaret J. Kantz,Kathleen McCormick,Wayne C. Peck,1990-09-20 The Social and Cognitive Studies in Writing and Literacy Series is devoted to books that bridge research theory and practice exploring social and cognitive processes in writing and expanding our knowledge of literacy as an active constructive process as students move from high school to college This descriptive study of reading to write examines a critical point in every college student s academic performance when he or she is faced with the task of reading a source integrating personal ideas and creating an individual text with a self defined purpose Offering an unusually comprehensive view of this process the authors chart a group of freshmen as they study and write in their dormitories recording their think aloud strategies for reading writing and revising their interpretation of the task and their broader social cultural and contextual understanding of college writing Flower Stein and colleagues convincingly conclude that the legacy of schooling in general makes the transition to college difficult and more important that the assumptions students hold and the strategies they use in undertaking this task play a significant role in their academic performance Embracing a broad range of perspectives from rhetoric composition literacy research literary and cultural theory and cognitive psychology this rigorous analysis treats reading to write as both a cognitive and social process It will interest researchers and theoreticians in rhetoric and writing teachers working with students in transition from high school to college and educators involved in the links between cognition and the social process

Writing Strategies for Talent Development Jennifer Gottschalk, 2021-04-21 Writing Strategies for Talent Development helps educators incorporate effective and engaging writing strategies into their classroom that are designed to reach struggling and gifted students alike This guide demonstrates how teachers can provide the means to write with appropriate tools and classroom structures the motivation to write through engaging genre based lessons and the opportunity to write more frequently across multiple subjects Covering genres from fantasy crime and humor to horror non fiction and even romance this book provides the tools to support every writer in the room

The Writing Revolution Judith C. Hochman, Natalie Wexler, 2017-07-27 Why you need a writing revolution in your classroom and how to lead it The Writing Revolution TWR provides a clear method of instruction that you can use no matter what subject or grade level you teach The model also known as The Hochman Method has demonstrated over and over that it can turn weak writers into strong communicators by focusing on specific techniques that match their needs and by providing them with targeted feedback Insurmountable as the challenges faced by many students may seem The Writing Revolution can make a dramatic difference And the method does more than improve writing skills It also helps Boost reading comprehension Improve organizational and study skills Enhance speaking abilities Develop analytical capabilities The Writing Revolution is as much a method of teaching content as it is a method of teaching writing There's no separate writing block and no separate writing curriculum Instead teachers of all subjects adapt the TWR strategies and activities to their current curriculum and weave them into their content instruction But perhaps what's most revolutionary about the TWR method is that it takes the mystery out of learning to write well It breaks the writing process down into manageable chunks and then has students practice the chunks they need repeatedly while also learning content
