When Night Is Falling:

Performing Queer Female Identity on Screen Jamie Stuart, 2008-07-15 Film audiences have grown used to seeing female characters in performance roles singing or dancing on stages in nightclubs musical arenas or theaters performing their femaleness for the fictional audience as well as the film viewing audience But queer women in film perform on yet another level In addition to performing their gender for the world they also perform their sexuality for either a general or an insider audience in ways that can be read to establish a queer visibility to establish a sense of community or to show romantic lesbian interest This work examines performance spaces for lesbian identities in films evaluating how queer femaleness is signified in contemporary cinema It studies five films in particular When Night Is Falling Better Than Chocolate Tipping the Velvet Slaves to the Underground and Prey for Rock and Roll Through close textual analysis evaluations of the conditions under which each film was produced and received and dozens of audience surveys it reveals much about both the story worlds of the films and the ways that queer women react to and feel about them

Toronto New Wave cinema and the anarchist-apocalypse David Christopher, 2025-06-10 The Toronto New Wave TNW comprises a group of avant garde filmmakers working in Canada from the 1980s and into the new millennium whose innovative film works share significant affinities with anarchist themes and aesthetics Several of the TNW filmmakers openly identify as anarchists and or acknowledge a debt to anarchism in their production of highly apocalyptic narratives as part of their cinematic political projects However recognition of anarchism s progressive apocalyptic theoretical relevance has yet to be substantially taken up by scholarship in cinema analysis This analysis introduces an anarchist inflected analytical methodology to understand the apocalyptic revelatory political work these films attempt to accomplish in the perceptual space between the filmic texts and both their auteurs and potential viewers and to re locate the TNW within cinema history as an ongoing phenomenon with new significance in an apocalyptic era of digital distribution
