Implementing Ecological Integrity Philippe Crabbé, Alan J. Holland, Lech Ryszkowski, L. Westra, 2012-12-06 This book contains some of the papers which were presented at the NATO Science Environmental Security Advanced Research Workshop on Implementing Ecological Integrity Restoring Regional and Global Environmental and Human Health held in Budapest from June 26 to July 1 1999 All papers presented are summarized in the Introduction and in some cases shorter versions are published A multidisciplinary core of American and Western European participants had met over the preceding years to discuss the concept of ecological integrity The term ecological integrity is found in environmental policy documents but generally is not defined It competes with other recent terms or environmental narratives such as ecosystem health and sustainable development and also with older ones such as conservation Therefore it is deemed important not only to sort out the definitions of these concepts but also to find out whether their practical implications differ Moreover it was interesting to find out whether participants from Central and Eastern European Countries CEEC and more generally from NATO partner countries would be first responsive to this concept and second would hold different views of it This explains the broad albeit not always consistent range of topics which are covered in this book The core group learned that CEEC and other NATO partners participants were responsive to the concept but that they were less exclusive of human influence

Cognition and the Symbolic Processes Walter B. Weimer, David S. Palermo, 2024-06-03 Originally published in 1982 this book following the previous volume published in 1974 continued to look at current issues in theoretical and cognitive psychology and looked for new directions for fruitful theory and research The major concern for all the contributors was with the construction of a psychology of the higher mental processes through the evaluation of and improvement upon past efforts as well as the exploration of related areas or disciplines for relevant new ideas The contributors to this volume shared in common the rejection of not only behavioristic and associationistic approaches but also the sensory information processing model that earlier dominated and by weight of numbers of adherents and publications still dominated cognitive psychology at the time Today it can be read and enjoyed in its historical context

Population and the Social System Francesco Saverio Nitti, 1894

Radical Social Work Roy Victor Bailey, Roy Bailey, Mike Brake, 1975 Recession unemployment poverty urban decay delinquency vandalism alienation and inadequacy are everywhere evident in the advanced industrial countries The role of welfare agencies in ameliorating the less pleasant symptoms of western society is widely recognized as crucial to its preservation Social workers the frontline agents of the welfare state may well find that paradoxically the justification of their profession lies in the maintenance of a social and economic system that is the cause of the ills they are employed to confront and to which their everyday experience renders them fundamentally opposed These essays are radical because they explore ways in which social ills may be cured rather than concealed They challenge the relevance and long term effectiveness of received ideas in social work and social work education many of which remain rooted in the rapacious benevolence of Victorian philanthropy The authors attempt to formulate codes and practices that may provide more realistic solutions to the problems of the socially unfit At the same time they consider the questions that all social workers whether students or professionals radical or neutral must at some stage ask themselves How far can the needs of the single member be subsumed in the interests of his community How far can the requirements of political organization and conscientization of the oppressed override the immediate need to salve the distress of one family or individual How far can the means be sacrificed to the end
