

Champion Trees Project

Tree measuring guides

To nominate a champion tree, you will need to measure tree circumference (inches), height (feet), and average crown diameter (feet).

Calculate the tree score using the following formula:

$$\text{Circumference} + \text{Height} + 1/4 \text{ Diameter} = \text{Score}$$

You will need:

1. Flexible measuring tape
2. Pair of stakes
3. Notebook
4. Pencil
5. A partner

How to measure tree circumference

Step 1: Place one end of your measuring tape at the base of the tree and measure up the trunk until you reach a height of 4.5 feet. You will use the 4.5 ft mark to measure the trunk's circumference.

Step 2: Wrap the measuring tape around the trunk at the above-mentioned height of 4.5 feet above the ground. Write down the measurement value that lines up with the "0" (in inches).

What to do...

If the tree divides at or below the 4.5-foot mark, measure the trunk's circumference just below the division.

If the tree is leaning, follow the inclination of the trunk to measure 4.5 feet from the base of the tree.

If the tree is on a slope, measure 4.5 feet up from the base at the lowest and highest side of the tree. Identify the midway point between the two measurements and measure the circumference from the midway point.
